A Sole-Practice Administration of Causes and Matters Defending the Foundation of the United States of America during this anomalously Precedental, Deviant and idiosyncratic time of Crisis. Established a decade ago, therefore, its icon is chosen to be upon the "Bedford Minuteman Flag of 1775" sideways. (Actually, sometimes an accident can be Providential. I glued it sideways in a hurry.) [Website initiated: 12022020.]

initiated: 12022020. It is yet UNDER CONSTRUCTION (while under exigent circumstances of extreme malicious interference of electronic surveillance Misconduct).]

Oath-Statement of Testimonial Credibility and Faithfulness

All excerpts of my own authorship, uppe Witnessed Paul-Testimony of the Looptank by its Unreliable Manifest Phenomena are Completely Sound Inferences and Discernments in Corroboration with an Excessive wealth of Experiential Witness through-out Continuity of MY LIFE to REEY MATURE AGE. They All are Completely proven to myself Immensurably "Beyond ALL Reasonable Doubt" to even beyond full-measure of standards of proof and with the Sonnet of SOUND MIND. & They are ALL & TOTALLY, OBJECTIVELY FACTUAL. They ARE NOT verbatim Reliance upon any such said Testimony Witnessed. I AM MOST CERTAIN OF ALL OF THEM possessing knowledge of Evidence Thoroughly SUPPORTING.

[Said evidence, however, cannot practically, and as constant rule, be reiterated REDUNDANTLY. (IT is not SOUND, by Orthodoxy in the Field, to "Accumulate a "book of the Ages" to Conclusion, as do my Treacherous and Obnoxious Opponents.)] [I AM AWARE of another conspiratorial complication: Many Looptank parties (for example: Megan O'Sullivan, former Deputy National Security Advisor, once partisans as a satanic high-priestess in guild with my biological relatives; and one "assumed" a Mexican-Young member by Woodland, CA, dare Looptank - Counterfeiting my authorship, from stolen Intellectual Property and Patented Workproduct, as Looptank Racketeers. This I have previously asserted concerning "Mottos and Intent of the Looptank." Above Statement certainly does not apply to these products, authorships or counterfeiters. I effort to maintain faithful record to which I attest claim of my own authorship via this website.]

You have no credibility with me. Colluders in a Treasonous, Anti-American Conspiracy (and with such who have dubbed themselves "New Order" and "SCAN" of globalist occultists networked). ## Image of Last Will of Barnabus Horton (1600-1680)

The Sole, True, Faithful Descendant-Heir of Barnabus Horton (needing to pursue administrative namechange) and Witness before Abba Jehovah, The True Living God. (The predicament contemporary is not fault of aforementioned.)

This drawing, often labeled in error as Barnabas Horton (1600-1680), is actually of JONATHAN GOLDSMITH HORTON. He was a 3rd great grandson of Barnabas and the last Horton descendant to live in the house before it was torn down in 1878. It was included on a memorial drawing about Barnabas Horton's house in Southold, Long Island. "J. G. Horton Esq" is seen on the jacket at bottom of picture.

Birthname has been James E. Horton. In life, my name has actually changed to Jacob. Need, within situation recorded on Youtube channel, is self-evidentiary for name change for administrative records. Since disruption by legal and abuse of process harassments, while caused to be indigent, overburden in malice intent has delayed these intents with very exigent priorities that are obvious from the documentaries.

I still am deciding surname. Publishing a decision at this time would be premature since I am privy to conspiracy to steal my identity by racketeering and record tampering amongst vicissitudes endured in these exigencies. [For example, I am hearing Christopher Allen, from Massillon, OH, from Lptnk Mnfst Phnmna, crying like a little crybaby, discussing HIS intent after downloading to exploit my produced records, without any thought for my interests only selfish malice, for his own misuse, like Curt Cecil... , and to be chosen by mafioso to replace myself in a contest toward this prize... Look, he's black, and that is mad, delusional lunacy. Why is Trump pardoning these to happen?

COP: These pardons must be defied as unlawful by conscientious action!]

My name at birth was James Edward Horton. I have exigent cause for namechange on administrative records according to actual change of name in life. Process has been administratively obstructed by occultic, organized-criminal racketeers; I am actively pursuing these causes legally harassed. Name provided here is specific purpose pseudonym, not my real name either. Under Trump, record tamperers of same above are being enabled. Justice is being obstructed concerning attempts to steal, replace (post intended aggravated manslaughter of myself in protracted conspiracy to commit...) my identity by tampering in collusion with known (by myself) mafioso and such networked saturating FBI and DHS. ### The early days of 'Penn's Woods'

March 03 , 2009 Filed in: Quakers | Pennsylvania | People

William Penn was born October 14, 1644 and was greeted with large crowds of supporters. Philadelphia was a tolerant and bustling city of 3,000 with merchants, tree-lined streets, and school the son of royalist Sir William Penn, a famous Admiral who served in the British Navy.

Young William was raised during the unstable time in England of Oliver Cromwell's reign and the Glorious Revolution. At the age of 15, Penn met Thomas Loe, a Quaker missionary who taught him the Quaker beliefs of pacifism and equality. A few years later, while at school in Oxford, Penn developed his individuality and philosophy of life and became sympathetic to the Quaker religion.

Raised an Anglican, Penn converted to Quakerism at the age of 22, much to the extreme disapproval of his father.

The King of England owed William Penn's father £16,000.

To repay his debt, King Charles II granted the young Penn 45,000 square miles of land to establish a colony in “regard to the memorie and merits of his late father” on March 4, 1681. The land for this colony was to be located between the 39th and 42nd degrees north latitude and from the start of the Delaware River continuing westward 5 degrees longitude.

Penn first referred to his land as “New Wales” and then “Sylvania” (meaning woods or forest in Latin). King Charles added “Penn” to the title in honor of Admiral Penn. The younger William Penn was only 37 years old when he gained sovereign rule of the new territory known as Pennsylvania.

Penn worked quickly to establish a colony like no other in the New World. He recruited fellow Englishmen of every trade and skill to join him. From simple farmers to wealthy businessmen, Penn needed every type of settler (or “adventurer,” as he called them) to help create a successful colony. In 1682, with his strong Quaker ideals in place, Penn left England for Pennsylvania onboard the ship named the Welcome.

Penn created a town at the mouth of the Delaware River to promote commerce and government; he named the town, Philadelphia which was Greek for “city of brotherly love.” To ensure his colony would remain peaceful, Penn purchased the land from the local Native Americans. He also comforted groups of Dutch settlers who had already lived along the Delaware River that his colony was one of acceptance and that they would be free from religious persecution...

Establishing laws and a sound government was crucial to the survival of Pennsylvania. An Assembly was formed in order to develop a government created by the people with laws embodying Quaker ideals, quite a different approach from the laws established in England. Having an Assembly would ensure that power did not fall into the hands of only one person – including Penn himself. This government was based on Quaker ethics. Two legislative houses would protect citizens’ property and business ventures and would impose taxes fairly. All cases were to be heard before a jury, and prisons were designed to focus on correcting behavior rather than merely holding captives. The death penalty was still applicable in cases of treason and murder. After many drafts, Penn wrote The Charter of Privileges in 1701; this document lasted until the start of the American Revolution, when it was the start of the American Revolution, when it was replaced by the State Constitution

(https://www.monroehistorical.org/articles\_files/030809\_penn.html).

The very first Thanksgiving took place several hundred miles from Philadelphia, and happened about fifty years before William Penn set foot on the soil that became Philadelphia. Nevertheless, this time of year it's easy to wonder what Penn must have thought when he first hopped off the boat in the fall of 1682 after a long voyage from England.

Most of the early descriptions of Pennsylvania relate to the fecundity of the land. These were written as part of an extensive recruiting effort to get more people to settle here. Descriptions detailing thriving crops, animals fattening on rich pasture, and peaches falling from the fattening on rich pasture, and peaches falling from the trees tempted settlers from England.

We also know from correspondence that Penn was completely smitten with the natural landscape. He wrote “The woods are adorned with lovely flowers . . . I have seen the gardens of London best stored with that sort of beauty but think they may be improved by our woods.” The England he left behind had beautiful forests and parkland (mostly private,) but fall color was muted at best. The leaves on most deciduous English trees turn brown or tan before falling to the ground.

Yet in the New World different types of maples blazed red and yellow, alongside purple sweetgum and orange sassafras. Sumac glowed, and towering tulip poplars showered golden leaves onto the ground far below. The first few waves of European immigrants would have had a hard time believing their eyes, when the magic trick that is American autumn began to unfold.

It didn't take long for the seeds of the great American trees to get back to Europe, thanks to our own John Bartram. Today the trees of various continents are salted pretty evenly throughout the temperate parts of the globe.

Imagine if Penn hadn't been so taken with the forests he found in the New World. Instead of naming his new territory Penn's Sylvania (Penn's Woods) he might have chosen a different name for the colony, and we would be living someplace else. Pennessee? Penntucky? Pennsiana? None have the same ring, and none serve as a reminder of the natural beauty of our part of the world (<https://whyy.org/articles/200-years-of-change-to-the-nw-landscape/>).

Proclamation of "BBBP" Distinctive Significance

"BBBP" is acronym for "Bible-Based"
Original Intent Platform - the Issue Platform consistently applying the (Anti-Populist) Judeo-Christian Jurisprudence Tradition of this nation's founders. No other legal doctrine, and as applied for Constitutional Interpretation is Orthodox (but Historical). This is despite various "Theories" (such as "Living Document Theory" and so on), Deviant to Constitution and Contrary to Original Intent, which have subverted and corrupted all of America's Institutions. They are Modern Inventions of vicious Enemies throughout the "Judeo Conspiracy" which has been misnamed "The Cold War" and are Treasonous. We, contemporarily, are experiencing the accumulative results of the Evil Design and a mismanaged "Great Immigration" of the 20th Century.

Grievances against Government
Misconduct involving FISA and other UnConstitutional violations stretching to “Personal Papers and Effects.” The Misconduct has caused severe damages. ¶ For personal file management, I filenamed the casefile with an acronym for a code-name type of appellation for an initiative category. Spontaneously and impromptu, I quickly derived and wrote “UTR” on its file folder. This also functioned well as a directory name for my netbook’s file system. Actually, I call the

been aware: Malicious UCMJ Infractors and relatives connected to federal agencies became obsessed (overzealous), per surveillance Misconduct, with Retaliation against this they schizophrenically dubbed, "The UTR." Amongst intrusions, they obsessed to "Look for the UTR" and have illegally hacked it incalculable number of times. (Hydzik, in motivating conspiracy to commit... is obviously one major culprit involved because I "was doing something" adult in my life.)¶ This was motivation of Police Misconduct, including a Pretextual False Arrest, in Yolo County, CA. This County, I have discovered, was a stronghold of my enemies. This was unbeknownst to me when I walked into West Sacramento, on my direction toward objectives, in 2013. This began more joindered cases with intent, amongst others, to disrupt by their criminal harassments. Since, per discovery, I have inferred the suspicion that this county is such stronghold because it may be the

On the Old and the New God / Faith / and Teaching (1521)

This broadsheet is an early attempt to explain the difference between the church of Rome and that of evangelical reform, which it does by visual appropriations for popular festival culture. On the left, the pope is depicted as a carnival puppet held aloft, literally and figuratively, by two figures of the church (a cardinal and a canon), a monk, and the pagan philosopher Aristotle. The bottom register depicts anti-Lutheran propagandists, among them Ambrosius Caterinas, Johann Faber, Johann Eck, and Sylvester Prierias, Luther's very first literary opponent. The pope is crowned by two devils, as are the cardinal and the canon. The pope holds a key, symbolizing his ecclesiastical authority, a sword, symbolizing his temporal powers. On the right: a scroll reading "This is my beloved son" links the vertically arranged figures of the Trinity. Upholding the faith are figures of the four divinely inspired evangelists (in stark contrast to the merely human support-the four divinely inspired evangelists (in stark contrast to the merely human supporters of the papist carnival puppet); in the bottom register, opposing the papal propagandists, are St. Paul (hold a sword and the Bible) and Luther himself, in the lower right-hand corner; the scroll beside him reads "One God and Father of All." The overall thrust of the image is to present the pope as a false God and to associate Luther's teachings with authentic or "old" Christianity, as opposed to the false, human inventions of the Roman church. A Fitting Reward for the Most Satanic Pope and his Cardinals (1545) hats dangling from their bodies; devils carry off their souls, while an executioner nails their tongues, which have been cut off for telling falsehoods, to the gallows. The sheet contains some of the same allusions as "De Ortu et Origine Monachorum" (see below), but formally is based on the Schandbrief, or "letter of insult," a common custom among the German nobility, which aimed at gaining revenge for unredressed grievances. Such letters of insult heaped abuse upon the enemy, and were often accompanied by Schandbilder, images that were designed to insult, which showed the person under assault suffering death by dishonorable means -- through hanging, for example, or dismemberment, or disembowelment. Here, the text reads: "If the pope and cardinals were / To be justly punished here on earth / Their slanders would merit / What you see depicted here."

A Satire on the Papal Arms (n.d.)

In this undated broadsheet from Luther's lifetime, a propagandist for reform uses features of the Schandbild to defame papal authority. In this case, the insulting image adapts the papal coat of arms to make a point about the fiscalism of the church. The crossed keys that form the background represent the "office of the keys" -- the theological basis of papal claims to "bind and loose" the fate of souls in heaven. In this rendition, the keys have been shattered. From the stock of one key hangs the pope -- in itself insulting, since hanging was a dishonorable form of capital execution. The meaning is obvious: the pope deserves to die an ignoble death. A poor peasant hangs from the other stock -- an indictment of the social cost of church fiscalism. The device within the coat of arms explains why the pope should be strung up: it shows a hand clutching money-bags, that is, the "purse of Judas". From it protrude coins and bishops' mitres -- symbols that convey the charge of simony. The dialogue accompanying the illustration state that the pope has abused the power of the keys to bind and loose: through annates and other spiritual taxes, the pope has usurped the power that properly belongs to bishops, abbots, kings and princes. He has, in short, betrayed Christ for money -- he is Judas.

JCTF vs. Bush et al.

The FBI is assembling a massive database on thousands of Americans, many of whom have not been accused of any crime. the Washington Post's latest look at the country's ballooning national security system focuses on the role that local agencies – often staffed by people with little to no counter-terrorism training – have played in combating terrorism since 2001.

Here are five stories that make up their piece:

1. The FBI's National Security Activity Reporting Initiative, which currently contains 161,948 suspicious activity files, into which authorities can put information they've gathered about the people at the center of the files: employment history, financial documents, phone numbers, photos. In many cases, the people in the files have not been accused of any crime but have attracted the suspicions of a local cop, FBI agent or even fellow citizen. The files have led to five arrests but no convictions, the FBI says. Some of the files are unclassified so that local police agencies and even businesses can submit reports on anyone they deem suspicious.

Documentaries1,307,826 viewsFeb 3, 2017

An intimate profile of Richard Nixon

Nixon In The Den develops a fresh account of Nixon and his ruthless ambition to escape a loveless, impoverished

background. Historian David Reynolds argues that Nixon was genuinely successful as an international statesman, with historic visits to Communist China and the Soviet Union in 1972 helping thaw the Cold War. Yet, behind the scenes, Nixon's diplomacy was a story of intrigue and rivalry. The very methods that won Nixon acclaim on the international stage also doomed his presidency in the infamous Watergate scandal. With the help of Nixon's scribbled memos, audio recordings and rarely seen home movie footage and photos, this film throws new light on Nixon's obsessive secrecy, relentless deception and paranoid mistrust of key aides, especially his foreign policy adviser Henry Kissinger. @

The organized demonstration group, The Occupiers, of a so-called “Occupy Movement” was component in an agenda to initiate martial law and rule UnConstitutionally. It was formed during the political dynamics following the 2008 economic crisis with Occupy Wall Street formed, motivated and exploited to incite and cause civil disorder for rationalization to declare such Emergency State necessitating restoration, then commit Anti-Constitutional and Anti-Christian Holocaust by Globalist, despotic military action once deceptively justified by the artificial pretense. I observed, as witness, DOD collusion by bulk supply of this “Occupy Movement.”

“Occupy Movement.”

This intervention (see Historical Archive) affected an interruption of their activities. Members were convinced/persuaded to forsake/abandon the demonstration group. The group dissolved as members dispersed. It’s operation terminated/concluded. With dissolution, members dispersed as disorganized “Ampol Nomads” (identifying nomenclature for Lptnk network faction cult...).

“A Petition for Extraordinary Relief can be filed when there is no other plain, speedy and adequate remedy available to a person. It can be on grounds involving: wrongful restraint on personal liberty; wrongful use of public or corporate authority; wrongful use of judicial authority, and the failure to exercise such authority.

Extraordinary relief is usually granted in form of writs. Certiorari, Habeas Corpus, Mandamus and Prohibition are a few examples of extraordinary writs”

STATEMENT OF FACTS...

292014, per request of Public Defender granted in error, said case was accrued to dockets of “trailing” cases as aforementioned (contrary to Petitioner’s stated desires for defense). Case is still pending, “trailing” also neglected.

° Anomalous procedure motioned for aforesaid grossly prejudiced Petitioner prima-facie. By such gross abuses of discretion, Due Process has been grossly denied.

Petitioner expressed contrary desires during very few, inadequate consultations with counsel. Furthermore, although cases subsequent were repeatedly vacated (unspoken) as “trailing,” still records (Minute Sheets and Case Summary Reports) falsely reflect “Matter Heard” for hearings in each severally. Thereby, cases have compounded together to Overburden simultaneously. Above also constitutes extreme Abuse of Legal Process violating petitioner’s Speedy Trial and Fair Trial Rights. Repeatedly (both to counsel in meeting and in open court), he has raised discrepancy about these acts of Procedural Misconduct and Harassment. Continually, he has been prejudicially ignored on issue. Court has responded only incrementally more and more

Malicious and Retaliatory.

. During pendencies, Court obligated Petitioner to attend total of 45 pretrial hearings and 3 days of 1 trial for which sentence hearing and judgement are delayed. The trial is not concluded. Hearings have resulted in a long train of blatant prejudicial denials flying in the face of Constitutional Rights.

° Since commencements, Petitioner successfully raised issues of substantial conflict due to ineffective counsel (completely adverse to adequate defense violating attorney-client privilege and Attorney's Oath) and right to waive counsel. Therefore, court granted right to self-represent in all case during oral hearing on 12072015 upon reasoning above herein. Need for competent counsel necessitated assertion of right — Petitioner is law trained.

° A case: 14-4497 initiated by Woodland Police Department alleging violation of PC § 415(1). Facts are that a Corporal baited Petitioner by blocking entrance to Police Station retaliating against his intent to acquire a citizen's complaint form concerning prior misconduct. Said case was dismissed upon motion to dismiss (of Petitioner, Pro Se) and for lack of sufficient evidence on 01272016. As a result, Petitioner cause for civil action... • Actually, proceedings since 06222016 constituted therein. In response, Judge Maguire: 1) vacated conference until 06172016; 2) then, ordered parties to “file papers” (and by vacated date of 06172016) informing

Appellate Department concerning delays as above.

Thereby, only less than two days

were given for motion practice, per order, with disregard for statutory procedure at issue (reasonable deadlines). On 06172016, prior to hearing, Petitioner (being procedurally overburdened unfairly) filed an ANSWER TO RESPONDENT’S REPLY

BRIEF addressing, as order, issue of said delays. (Please refer to Appendix F(3).)

At continued hearing on 06172016, Judge Maguire
informed of denial of stay and set jury selection to begin 06222016. Court prejudicially denied his motions for mistrial. Petitioner (at least) twice orally moved for mistrial upon above facts; he motioned on same date, in open court (06172016), and then during evidentiary procedure hearing (06222016). Judge reasoned, in part, that he only excepts motions in writing (and during oral argument proceedings).

- Post further gross abuses abuses of discretion occurring between 06152016 and 06172016, trial wrongfully proceeded on 06222016. Several Due Process violations occurred during trial. Just three examples are as follows:
  - During voir-dire selection on 06232016, Supervisor of Woodland Police Department's Detective Unit was detected in jury box. Said presence of Officer (Agent of Party in Interest) evidenced intent to collude and conspire in acts of tampering and/or unduly coercing the jury – evidence of a “tainted” jury.

“tainted” jury.

- During fact-trying, prosecution based its case solely upon non-corroborated, unproven accusation of one accuser. Evidence presented (by prosecution) included:1. Fabricated facts testified by informant as first witness [(being incompetent, irrelevant to charge, inconsistent and contradictory and thus challenged by Petitioner’s motion to impeach on the record, and during cross-examination) (Black’s Law Dictionary 409 Abridged 6th edition 1991)],

2. Electronic audio recording of dispatch call – the initial accusation – reported by said first witness (which included audible background of Petitioner, from a distance, orating about the false report while departing),

3. Second and last witness, Officer Guthrie of the Woodland Police Department testified that he did not witness incident at scene of complaint while further parol testimony only evidenced that

Petitioner had departed scene of incident without

Fighting.

Yet, jury reached wrongful verdict of “guilty” and

Petitioner was wrongfully convicted of violation of PC ss 415.

Furthermore, trial, to this date, is still incomplete. Court is delaying sentencing, hence judgement, egregiously inordinate.

Jury decision and verdict on 06242016 has been last trial decision thus far. Judge, on same date, continued sentencing phase until 06292016. Therefore, under such “Extraordinary Circumstances”

(specifically with respect to delayed sentencing and judgement in bad-faith), Petitioner, on 06282016, filed Motion to Vacate

Judgement arguing following headed points: CASE

IS STILL PENDING UPON

INORDINATELY DELAYED DECISION ON

(PETITIONER'S) PETITION FOR WRIT OF MANDATE, and that FAIR TRIAL PREJUDICIALLY HARMED BY UNDUE INFLUENCE UPON JURY. (Please refer to

Appendix F(5).)

- On 06292016, at continued sentencing hearing, Maguire (conspicuously) retaliated maliciously against my most recent motion and with motive and intent to preemptively obstruct Post-Trial and succeeding causes for civil actions. On the record, the hearing was completely one-sided – Obstructionist.

Petitioner appeared prepared to orate in support and in defense on issues relevant to sentencing by statute; He attempted to raise and then asserted to raise them.

Maguire blatantly denied Due Process precluding right to speak. Continually, he interrupted attempts to assert right for hearing on matter. Furthermore, he reversed accused Petitioner overbearingly insisting

he not “interrupt.” Maguire also forbade right to state objections during an Unconstitutional, ex-parte “presentation” by the District Attorney’s Office.

Court acted to unjustly Duress Petitioner to accept settlement offer for a nonstatutory, Unconstitutional alternate to sentencing. Judge opened with prosecution. A Christopher Bulkley, Deputy District Attorney appeared present

- not prosecutor on record in the case and during trial (Fritz Van Der Hoek).

Bulkeley gave improper, prepared presentation endorsing (on record) a newly conceived “program” – the “Diversionary Homeless Program.” Accordingly, Petitioner would be Coerced to concede to Admission of Guilt, progress through stages of a thought-control program, accept “Incompetent to Stand Trial” status and controlled, free housing for indefinite period of time (when I am not even native to this state or county). Since I rejected said offer stating it to be unconstitutional on the record, Maguire persisted to Maliciously Retaliate with Gross

Competence to Stand Trial!

Maguire threatened (even Blackmailed) with Prejudice in Sentencing Phase – an excessive, maximum jail term (upon wrongful conviction while refusing to hear Petitioner on issues at hand for which he came prepared) as ultimatum to offer – an alternate to statutory punishments diverting Post-Trial Due Process. He Vindictively revoked Right to Self-Represent during sentencing and appointed Public Defender for counsel in error. Court specified revocation to be “... ON THIS CASE ONLY FOR SENTENCING.” (Please see Appendix F(1)(e).) Judge verbally confirmed, per Petitioner’s inquiry in open court, Petitioner otherwise remains Pro-Se in all cases. As reasoning, Maguire rationalized malicious prejudice against Petitioner’s aggressive defense as behavior indicating mental incompetence. He argued oversimply: Petitioner’s rejection of said counsel was believed by himself to be “irrational.” Furthermore, Respondent refused to permit objections to Unconstitutional Acts of “forcing a lawyer” upon a defendant while fully aware of Irreconcilable aware of Irreconcilable,

Substantial Conflict with same counsel. Court continued sentencing until 07132016.

Petitioner filed Faretta motion on 07112016. (Please see Appendix F(6).)

- On 07132016, Judge Maguire, in Department 10, was occupied by another incomplete trial and was unavailable. Upon appearing, Petitioner was informed by Bailiff that court transferred hearing to Department 9, Traffic Court before Judge J. Beronio in lieu of the overburden to “the time and resources of the court. Therefore, due to complications of case, the court then continued sentencing until 07272016 at 1000 in Department 10.

- On 07272016, Petitioner appeared at 1000 for continued sentencing hearing. Judge Maguire blatantly obstructed Due Process refusing to hear Petitioner upon issues for which he came prepared. Court claimed “FAILURE TO APPEAR” as reflected within minutes and case summary reports, yet maliciously granted prosecution’s oral motion to charge with Contempt for “(mis)behavior in court.” Post judge’s communicated refusal (at the bench) to hear

Petitioner, and on record, he

grossly Abused Legal Process issuing bench warrant.

Court delivered Minute Sheet

08242016. Date was already overburdened with hearings scheduled on compounded matters: vacated sentencing, oral argument upon Faretta motion, and neglected matters in all other cases, etc.

- Date for case 15-6705 concurrently with case 14-1219 has been set for

2. Meanwhile, continued “trailing” date for case 13-3628 concurrently with 13-23865 has been set, separated from others, for 02212017. Scheduling occurred as result of 2 separate false arrests upon 4 false bench warrants by Woodland Police Department on 11152016 and 11212016. Petitioner holds issued warrants constituted gross abuse of discretion and malicious Abuse of Legal Process on following grounds:
  1. Although absent in Respondent court on 08242016, Petitioner was circumstantially unable to appear. He was occupied with procedure of serving Petition for Extraordinary Writ and while indigent, without adequate transportation and distant.
  2. Petitioner requested stay of proceedings within Petition aforesaid.
  3. Hearing date

on 08242016 was set for multiplicity of matters in all cases simultaneously being continued since 07272016.

Colluding public officials exploited anomalous “trailing” procedure to harass

Petitioner with multiplication of warrants and arrests upon single hearing. Petitioner was, during this time, constantly active preparing for sentencing and motion practice.

Frivolous restraints disrupted his abilities to prepare and practice. (Please refer to

Appendix F(8).)

- On 08192016, Petitioner filed Petitioner for Writ of Habeas Corpus in Court of Appeals – Third District.

- On 11092016, Officer of Woodland Police Department frivolously stopped and questioned Petitioner. He arrested upon single bench warrant for case: 15-6705.

During booking, Yolo County Sheriff's Department, and on same date, also scheduled hearing for case: 14-1219 concurrently prior to release.

inquired of Petitioner for his name. Petitioner

3. Second and last witness, Officer Guthrie of the Woodland Police Department testified that he did not witness incident at scene of complaint while further parol testimony only evidenced that Petitioner had departed scene of incident without Fighting.

Yet, jury reached wrongful verdict of “guilty” and Petitioner was wrongfully convicted of violation of PC ss

ss

415.

Furthermore, trial, to this date, is still incomplete. Court is delaying sentencing, hence judgement, egregiously inordinate. Jury decision and verdict on 06242016 has been last trial decision thusfar. Judge, on same date, continued sentencing phase until 06292016. Therefore, under such "Extraordinary Circumstances" (specifically with respect to delayed sentencing and judgement in bad-faith), Petitioner, on

06282016, filed Motion to Vacate Judgement arguing following headed points: CASE

IS STILL PENDING UPON INORDINATELY DELAYED DECISION ON

(PETITIONER'S) PETITION FOR WRIT OF MANDATE, and that FAIR TRIAL

PREJUDICIALLY HARMED BY UNDUE INFLUENCE UPON JURY. (Please refer to

Appendix F(5).)

- On 06292016, at continued sentencing hearing, Maguire

(conspicuously) retaliated maliciously against my most recent motion and with motivicve and intentto preemptively obstruct Post-Trial and succeeding causes for civil actions. On the record , the hearing was completely one-sided – Obstructionist.

Petitioner appeared prepared to orate in support and in defense on issues relevant to sentencing by statute; He attempted to raise and then asserted to raise them.

Maguire blatantly denied Due Process precluding right to speak. Continually, he interrupted attempts to assert right for hearing on matter. Furthermore, he reversed accused Petitioner overbearingly insisting he not “interrupt.” Maguire also forbade right to state objections during an Unconstitutional, ex-parte “presentation” by the District Attorney’s Office.

Court acted to unjustly Duress Petitioner to accept settlement offer for a nonstatutory, Unconstitutional alternate to sentencing.

Judge opened with prosecution. A Christopher Bulkley, Deputy District Attorney appeared present not prosecutor on record in the case and during trial (Fritz Van Der Hoek).

4. Bulkeley gave improper, prepared presentation endorsing (on record) a newly
5. conceived “program” – the “Diversionary Homeless Program.” Accordingly,
6. Petitioner would be Coerced to concede to Admission of Guilt, progress

7. through stages of a thought-control program, accept “Incompetent to Stand
8. Trial” status and controlled, free housing for indefinite period of time (when I
9. am not even native to this state or county).
10. Since I rejected said offer stating it to be unconstitutional on the record,
11. Maguire persisted to Maliciously Retaliate with Gross
Abuse of Discretion. Bulkeley
12. reiterated intent to Maliciously Raise Doubt about Competence to Stand Trial!
13. Maguire threatened (even Blackmailed) with Prejudice in Sentencing Phase – an
14. excessive, maximum jail term (upon wrongful conviction while refusing to hear 15. Petitioner on issues at hand for which he came prepared) as ultimatum to offer – an
16. alternate to statutory punishments diverting Post-Trial
Due Process. He Vindictively

appointed Public Defender
18. for counsel in error. Court specified revocation to be “...
ON THIS CASE ONLY FOR 19. SENTENCING.” (Please see Appendix F(1)(e).) Judge verbally confirmed, per

20. Petitioner's inquiry in open court, Petitioner otherwise remains Pro-Se in all cases.
21. As reasoning, Maguire rationalized malicious prejudice against Petitioner's
22. aggressive defense as behavior indicating mental incompetence. He argued
23. oversimply: Petitioner's rejection of said counsel was believed by himself to be
24. "irrational." Furthermore, Respondent refused to permit objections to Unconstitutional
25. Acts of "forcing a lawyer" upon a defendant while fully aware of Irreconcilable,
26. Substantial Conflict with same counsel. Court continued sentencing until 07/13/2016.
27. Petitioner filed Faretta motion on 07/11/2016. (Please see Appendix F(6).)
28. • On 07/13/2016, Judge Maguire, in Department 10, was occupied by
29. another incomplete trial and was unavailable. Upon appearing, Petitioner was
30. informed by Bailiff that court transferred hearing to Department 9, Traffic Court

MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT OF
MOTION TO WAIVE RIGHT TO COUNSEL

CASE SUMMARY

Defendant, James E. Horton, was brought to trial in this case on 06222016. Jury deliberation ended on 06242016. Judge Daniel P. Maguire delayed sentencing hearing with continuance until 06292016. Just thereafter, Defendant filed Motion to Vacate Judgment challenging verdict as wrongful and arguing for dismissal due to inordinately delayed decision on Petition of Writ of Mandate to Appellate Division. At sentencing hearing on 06292016, Judge retaliated against Defendant's Motion to Vacate Judgment by maliciously revoking defendant's right to self-representation and improperly appointing Public Defender as appointed counsel for sentencing phase when Defendant has substantial conflict of interest with Public Defender's Office.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

A contextual background of prosecutorial actions is circumstantially relevant since evidencing motive and intent toward 14th Amendment denials including hyper-vigilance to discredit Defendant's competence in order to obstruct Defendant during Post-Trial as follows:

Approximately three years ago, prosecutorial action was initiated against myself, James E. Horton, by the West Sacramento Police Department. Since then the following court actions have occurred:

This first case (case: 13-3628) began with Public Defender overzealously RAISING A DOUBT ABOUT MY COMPETENCE TO STAND TRIAL at pretrial conference subsequent to arraignment. Doubt raised was based solely from police report without adequate consultation. Public Defender attempted to "fast-track" my case as a local procedure is termed. It would have denied fundamental rights without Due Process. I filed Faretta motion and have been granted self-representation after raising issue of substantial conflict due to ineffective counsel by the Public Defender's Office. Since waiving counsel, I have filed pretrial motions (timely and proper) defending that prosecution lacked probable cause for the arrest – it was a pretextual, malicious, false arrest.

Thereafter, a barrage of overzealous, vindictive prosecutorial harassment began. An additional four frivolous charges initiated. At arraignments, I requested Public Defenders with mind to avoid unfair overburden by actions. Counsel was appointed for them (Cases: 13-23865, 14-1219, 14-4497 and 15-6705). Case 13-23865 is a case also initiated by the West

Sacramento Police Department for taking

one can out of a machine can. Case 14-1219

one can out of a garbage can. Case 14-1219 involves charge of a camping infraction also to be heard in Traffic Court. It was initiated by a Woodland police officer to whom I explained: I have been circumstantially forced to self-represent in a foreign town as an indigent, and I was sitting under an overhang to get out of the rain with my case files and work product. This also was in 2014. Both cases are still amongst those pending behind first case in criminal court.

These cases are still pending by neglect since appointed counsel orally motioned for an anomalous procedure for these subsequent cases. Maguire agreed to and ordered so. Said to be "trailing," all cases versus this defendant were made to run consecutively and concurrently on the docket. As a result, all hearings were scheduled for all cases simultaneously.

Procedure on it has been totally deprived thus far by the court as hearings are on all cases simultaneously with limited time. Scheduled hearings, actually, were truncated and too brief for even tending to the first case. Continually, Maguire precluded adequate time (and as confirmed by the record) to hear myself (as I had prepared for) on matters for even this first case. To rationalize, he appealed to the “interest of the time of the court” claiming an overburdened docket. Otherwise, they totally neglected any effort toward defense in these cases. (Still, Case Reports all record “Matter Heard” (as falsehood) for each hearing.) By this decision, cases have been neglected, compounding together, to overburden at one time – an extreme Abuse of Legal Process violating my Speedy Trial and Fair Trial rights. Repeatedly, I have raised discrepancy about these acts of Procedural Misconduct (both to counsel in meeting and judges in open court) but have been prejudicially ignored continually on the issue.

Since then, I have successfully raised issues of substantial conflict due to ineffective counsel completely adverse to an adequate defense. and right to waive counsel and self-represent in all cases during oral hearing. I needed to assert this right for any adequate defense. I am law trained.

Numerous times, in various ways, within pretrial motions to dismiss with merit, I have raised point as follows:

DEFENDANT'S RIGHT TO FAIR TRIAL
PREJUDICED BY PROTRACTED

RESTRAINT OF HIS LIBERTY TO AN AREA. In them, he asserted: "delays are causing undue disruption to his life without justifiable cause... His liberty to move is restrained by inordinate bad faith delay – and without income – in proceedings and without income – in proceedings pending” inordinately prolonged while indigent and not even resident to this area.

This is due to overburdening by prosecutorial misconduct causing detriment to his Fair Trial rights. (Please see Defendant’s Speedy Trial Motions). For example, during pendencies, I have been obligated to attend total of 45 pretrial hearings and 3 days of 1 trial for which sentence hearing and judgment are delayed. The trial is not concluded.

Hearings have resulted in a litany of blatant prejudicial denials flying in the face of fundamental constitutional rights.

Also, initiated by Woodland Police Department alleging charge of Fight (Case: 14-4497). Facts are that a Corporal baited by blocking door to Police Station retaliating against my seeking a citizen’s complaint form. It was dismissed upon motion to dismiss in court and for lack of sufficient evidence. I have a cause for civil action as result.

Suddenly, in late 2013, at trial readiness for first case (case: 13-3628), Judge Maguire opened hearing informing of a new charge of violation of PC § 415(1). Instantly, at same hearing, I was arraigned (case: 15-6705). Charge was upon arrest based only on informant's accusation. Said case was reinitiated and rearraigned. Originally, complaint alleged violations of two charges: PC § 647.6(A) Annoy/Molest Child, and PC § 415(1) Fight/Challenge Fight. Later, at a first arraignment on 05/14/2015, it was rejected by DA for lack of sufficient evidence. At this time, it was reinitiated on 415 charge with 647.6 dropped for lack of sufficient evidence. Efforts began to expedite this new case to trial with primary emphasis. Now, continuances were set for all other cases. This timing was conspicuously tactical toward Abuse of Legal Process to adversely effect Fair Trial for first case (case: 13-3628).

for first case (case: 13-3628).

CASE FACTS

On 04202016, Petitioner filed Petition for Writ of Mandate and Request for Stay of Proceedings... At trial readiness conference scheduled on 04212016, Judge Daniel P. Maguire continued proceeding until 06152016 in lieu of time for decision upon Petition aforesaid and a stay until such. Respondent, Prosecutor Frits Van Der Hoek, filed opposition on 05092016. Petitioner has multiple times visited the court clerk seeking decision upon Petition in full-faith effort. Court repeatedly informed Petitioner has been being scrutinized over by such as called an "Attorney Unit" since 05092016. As date of this writing, decision is still pending and delayed in same process.

Trial proceeded on 06222016. Maguire put out continuance for sentencing phase; he verbalized favor of appointing public defender and prosecution's offer of a non-statutory agreement in place of sentencing called a "Diversionary Homeless Program." He threatened with ultimatum of prejudicial maximum sentence with settlement offer.

On 06272016, I filed Motion to Dismiss Because of Denial of Right to Speedy Trial in first case (case: 13-3628) arguing pendency thus far has prolonged 2 years and eight months being 1 year and 8 months surpassing maximum jail sentence. Hence, presumed prejudice against a fundamental right is prima facie. Then, on 06282016, I filed, under extreme circumstances considering judge's delay of sentencing phase, a Motion to Vacate Judgment upon the following points: CASE IS STILL PENDING UPON INORDINATELY DELAYED DECISION ON DEFENDANT'S PETITION FOR WRIT

OF MANDATE since “said Petition has been maliciously ignored and case preceded (sic) to trial,” and FAIR TRIAL PREJUDICIALLY HARMED BY UNDUE INFLUENCE UPON JURY since attempted jury tampering was evidenced during voir-dire selection and verdict was wrongful prima facie. Hearing for this motion was set for 07272016.

On 06292016, at a continued sentencing hearing, Maguire maliciously retaliated against my Motion to Vacate the Judgment. The hearing was completely one-sided. I was not permitted to speak and judge opened with prosecution. A Deputy District Attorney Christopher Bulkeley gave improper, prepared presentation endorsing (on record) the Diversionary Homeless Program as above mentioned. According to this newly conceived program, I would be forced to concede to “incompetent to stand trial” status, be forced to admit guilt, progress in stages of thought-control and be provided controlled housing (when I am not even native to this county – I am from Pennsylvania and Ohio). Maguire threatened with prejudicially excessive jail term as ultimatum to offer of this new program. Bulkeley voiced intent to raise doubt of my competence to stand trial. During hearing, Maguire blatantly precluded and obstructed fundamental right to orate in support and in defense. On the record, I attempted to raise issues relevant to sentencing by statute during this hearing. Continually, I was interrupted being told not to interrupt. Maguire also forbade my right to state objections during DA's unconstitutional presentation. Since I disagreed to and rejected offer of the unconstitutional program DDA Bulkeley offered (as replacement to sentencing), Judge Maguire vindictively revoked right to self-represent for sentencing. He then appointed counsel from the Public

Defender's Office despite my objections.

RULE OF LAW

A CRIMINAL DEFENDANT HAS THE FUNDAMENTAL GUARANTEED RIGHT TO WAIVE COUNSEL AND REPRESENT HIMSELF

Absent exceptional circumstances over which the court has discretion as prescribed by relevant law, self-representation is an unqualified/guaranteed right implicit in the the Sixth Amendment. "Implicit in Fifth and Sixth Amendments is right of accused personally to manage and conduct his own defense in a criminal case" (U.S. v. Plattner (1964) 230 F.2d 271). Therefore, court must be careful not to impair "the absolute and primary right to conduct one's own defense in propria persona."

According to Faretta, "Language and spirit of Sixth Amendment contemplate that of Sixth Amendment contemplate that counsel, like other defense tools guaranteed by it, shall be an aid to willing defendant, and not an organ of state interposed between an unwilling defendant and his right to defend himself personally” (Faretta v California (1975) 422 US 806). In dictum, it further explained, “An unwanted counsel ‘represents’ the defendant only through a tenuous and unacceptable legal fiction. Unless the accused has acquiesced in such representation, the defense presented is not the defense guaranteed him by the Constitution, for, in a very real sense, it is not his defense.”

Faretta v California is, now over development, primary case defining standards for self-representation. Relying upon, Indiana v. Edwards summarizes Faretta thusly: “The Court’s foundational ‘self-representation’ case... held that the Sixth and Fourteenth Amendments include a 'constitutional right to proceed without counsel when' a criminal defendant 'voluntarily and intelligently elects to do so...' The court implied that right from: (1) a 'nearly universal conviction,' made manifest in state law, that 'forcing a lawyer upon an unwilling defendant is contrary to his basic right to defend himself if he truly wants to do so,'... (2) Sixth Amendment language granting rights to the 'accused'; (3) Sixth Amendment structure indicating that the rights it sets forth, related to the 'fair administration of American justice,' are 'personal' to the accused,... (4) the absence of historical examples of forced representation... "respect for the individual... (a knowing and intelligent waiver of counsel must be honored out of 'that respect for the individual which is the lifeblood of the law')" (Indiana v. Edwards (2008) 554 U.S. 164).

CRITERIA FOR STANDARD OF COMPETENCE TO SELF-REPRESENT

Purpose for court's scope of discretion relevant to alleged doubt concerning a defendant's competence are determinations of whether defendant has mental capacity to either "stand trial," or to "self-represent." Therefore, just an assertion that defendant may be mentally ill is not enough to excuse denial of a presumed right – defendant must suffer from a severe, debilitating mental illness according to an objective, defined scope. The precedent Indiana v. Edwards more specifically narrow-clarifies scope for determination of Incompetence to Self-Represent as exception to Presumed Right. In it, the Supreme Court held: "... that United States constitution permits states insist upon representation by counsel for insist upon representation by counsel for those who are competent enough to stand trial but who still suffer from severe mental illness to the point where they are not competent to conduct trial proceedings by themselves” (Edwards, Supra).

Still, otherwise, standard for self-representation as in Faretta or Plattner as a guaranteed right with Presumption is still same.

According to People v. Johnson: “The standard that trial courts should apply when considering whether to exercise their discretion to deny self-representation based on a defendant’s mental state is whether the defendant suffers from a severe mental illness to the point where he or she cannot carry out the basic tasks needed to present defense without help of counsel” (People v. Johnson (2012) 53 C4th 519). Citing McKaskle v. Wiggins, the Edward’s court listed basic trial tasks as: 1) organization of defense. 2) making organization of defense, 2) making motions, 3) arguing points of law, 4) participating in voir dire, questioning witnesses, 5) and addressing the court and jury (Indiana v. Edwards(2008) 554 U.S. 164).

To illustrate, Edward's standard applied in People v. Garcia holding, "The defendant had the mental competence to knowingly and intelligently waive counsel in a trial for animal cruelty... Since he demonstrated a rational understanding of the proceedings and the charges against him... in addition, the defendant identified the charges against him in his opening statement, made partially successful motions, told the court that he was presenting an argument because if he did not make a record he would not be able to raise the issue on appeal, and demonstrated a full understanding of the allegations..." (People v. Garcia (2008) 159 Cal. App. 4th 163).

Although, in Boyd v. Dutton, the Supreme Court held that “Waiver of right to lawyer will not be lightly presumed,” it continued: “and trial judge must indulge every reasonable presumption against waiver.”

This holding, hinging up on the word reasonable indicates that such “p[re]sumption against waiver” was unreasonable. It is not obligatory upon a judge to favor a claim of doubt asserted where, in People v. Blair (2005) 36 C4th 686, 714).

It is relevant to compare against actual examples of incompetence requiring judicial denial.

For example, in Edwards, defendant was denied right to self-represent due to actual symptoms of schizophrenia. “Over the course of... two separate criminal trials, Edwards sought to act as his own lawyer. He filed a number of incoherent written pleadings,” such as this excerpt:

1 Defendant's Version of the Instant C

The appointed motion of permissive intervention filed therein the court superior on 6-26-01 caused a stay of action and upon its expiration or thereafter three years the plan to establish a youth program to and for the coordination of aspects of law enforcement to prevent and reduce crime among young people... etc... (Edwards, Supra).

The appointed motion of permissive intervention filed therein the court superior on 6-26-01 caused a stay of action and upon its expiration or thereafter three years the plan to establish a youth program to and for the coordination of aspects of law enforcement to prevent and reduce crime among young people... etc... (Edwards, Supra).

Stemming logically from the Constitutional doctrine that Sixth amendment rights to a fair trial are guaranteed personally to the defendant, technical legal knowledge is irrelevant to standard for determination of competence to self-represent within the court's scope of discretion. According to Edwards, "... even assuming that self-representation might pose special trial-related difficulties, 'the competence that is required of a defendant seeking to waive his right to counsel is the competence to WAIVE THE RIGHT, not the competence to represent himself...' for this reason, we concluded, the defendant's 'technical legal knowledge' is 'not relevant' to the determination' (Indiana v. Edwards, citing Dusky v. United States (1960) 362 U.S. 402 and Faretta, Supra).

Edwards exists within this whole common-law context Its scopes at issue are to be applied balancing against presumptions upon rights to not have lawyer forced on defendant, etc. Context has not been overruled, but cited and respected by Edwards court. Standards for determination of competence to self-represent have only been clarified within it.

ANALYSIS

THE COURT MALICIOUSLY ABUSED DISCRETION BEYOND STANDARD AND SCOPE AT ISSUE IN REVOKING DEFENDANT'S RIGHT TO SELF-REPRESENTATION

Defendant, hereby seeks to establish that he meets requirements for competence to self-represent and that court's doubts are prejudicial and unjust. Defendant, in fact, has demonstrated competence to self-represent surpassing standards defined by relevant case law. He has "knowingly and intelligently waived" right to counsel. He has shown competence to conduct proceedings at trial exceeding scope. Scope for standard involves competence to carry out “basic tasks” expected of a layperson without “technical legal knowledge”

(Johnson, Supra and Edwards, Supra).

During Pretrial, Defendant filed lucid, timely and proper pretrial motions with full merit. During trial, Defendant demonstrated relevant competence to perform basic tasks. He “demonstrated a rational understanding of the proceedings and the charges against him...” (Garcia, Supra). Defendant was aware and astute during voir-dire process. He recognized obvious “attempted jury tampering.” A supervisor of the Woodland Police Department’s Detective Unit, present in jury box, praised his subordinate on witness list. Defendant objected; juror was removed. He stated timely and proper objections. He led cross-examination adequately establishing relevant facts from questioning witnesses. He articulated organized opening and closing oral statements, and excellently “addressed the court and jury.” Throughout course of pendency, he has demonstrated comprehension of law at issue.

In open-hearing on 06292016, and on the record, during prosecution’s (unconstitutional) “presentation,” he commented ... excellent job at least at a basic level. Therefore, even by Judge’s own testimony (although I am adamant it is understated) Defendant has met standards according to Edwards.

Also, “Right of accused to defend himself rests on two bases: that he must have means of presenting the best defense and must have complete confidence in his own counsel” (Maldano v. Denno (1965) 348 F.2d 12). Defendant, here, is confident that, based on evidence alone, he could prevail in posttrial with appeal due to several prejudices to fundamental rights and upon challenge of a wrongful conviction. Under circumstances, (as above within statement of facts), in this case, adequate defense for Defendant absolutely necessitated that he self-represent. He has adequately and competently practiced more thoroughly and diligently than could be afforded by any attorney – especially the Public Defender's Office with whom he is in a conflict of interest. In support, Defendant has already acquired a dismissal (in case:14-4497) resultant of his own defense. Self-representation is most Fair for Defendant. In contrast to grounds for determination of incompetence in Edwards, here, court's doubts are claimed on implications concerning defendant's non-bizarre behavior. Defendant's motion practice has been lucid as well as his oral argumentation. Furthermore, he has been able to comprehend proceedings. Doubts are obviously insubstantial. Justice in this matter requires full consideration of Defendant's diligent, full-faith, competent efforts demonstrated on file and on record.

COURT RELIED ON PROSECUTION'S REASONING BASED ON MISREPRESENTATION OF FACTS AND MISINTERPRETATION OF AUTHORITY CITED

District Attorney Fritz Van Der Hoek supporting doubt relied on dictum in Edwards which states, "... a right of self-representation at trial will not 'affirm the dignity' of a defendant who lacks the mental capacity to conduct his defense without the assistance of counsel. To the contrary, given the defendant's uncertain mental state, the spectacle that could well result from his self-representation at trial is at least likely to prove humiliating as ennobling...” Curiously, he did not support his implication with any facts. Also, he misinterpreted intent of “dictum” out of context of the whole of doctrine within Edwards. By it, he misrepresented issues and facts and applied prejudicial scrutiny without substantiation.

On the contrary, Defendant did not make a spectacle as a fiasco attempting self-representation by judge’s own testimony. In open-hearing on 06292016, and on the record, responding to prosecution’s raised doubt, he commented excellent job at least at a basic level. Therefore, reasoning flies in the face of authority cited.

CONSENT

CONSENT

On 06292016, Judge Maguire appointed counsel from Public Defender's Office fully aware of my substantial conflict with them (as raised mentioned above). Defendant has waived same counsel previously before same judge on this basis. Said public officials have procrastination and neglected defense for Defendant by requesting anomalous procedure of "trailing cases" as averred above within Statement of Facts. The court favored. Defendant's cases (and outcome) have been harmed severely as a result. Also, this has been much cause of disruption to Defendant's life from deprivation of right to Speedy Trial (bad-faith delay without remedy thus far) as Defendant has argued. Repeatedly, the court has based prejudicial denials of Defendant's Speedy Trial motions (in open hearing) on that record reflects Defendant has requested numerous continuances. It is suggested that, therefore, Defendant has not asserted Speedy Trial Rights – and as only factor to consider as oversimplification of issue. Firstly, he has argued (repeatedly): bad-faith delays were result of procrastination of public officials; he had not consented, but contended with decisions of appointed counsel to request said “trailing.” The Case Summary report reflects “Matters Heard” held out which were not continuances requested by myself. Secondly, by addressing issues of bad-faith delay with pretrial practice, Defendant had performed exactly expected to fulfill assertion of Speedy Trial Rights – causes of bad-faith delay by public officials. The above is amongst several reasons Defendant has for asserting incompetent and ineffective counsel as described within Statement of Facts.

CONCLUSION

Judge Maguire, on 06292016, grossly abused discretion in revoking self-representation – even if just for sentencing. Also, appointing Public Defender was highly improper given factors to weigh. Wherefore, Defendant requests the court to reverse revocation of his right to self-representation, regrant right to waive counsel, and for sentencing hearing included.

Just prior to dusk, having to urinate, he began to leave toward Old Sacramento to use the restrooms traversing along the lower path which inclines north to converge with the main Riverwalk toward Old Sacramento Park. Simultaneously, four (apparent) juveniles (later determined to be Tyler Anderson, Deniseia Lacy, Malaysia Allen, and Mary Gibbs) appeared from the bridge area coinciding with his southward travel along the main Riverwalk (above to his left). The three females were being led by a male who was ranting and gesturing loudly and flamboyantly. They began hazing from above shouting ridiculing terms such as "treehugger." Due to the group's pace of travel, parties converged at the juncture of the respecting paths. At the convergence, the party continued presenting defendant with targeted hanters while cellphone*

At Anderson's behest, the group then turned and traveled north; defendant continued toward his destination. At this juncture, defendant overheard Anderson giving his description over his cell phone indicating a police dispatch call. In order to avoid a possible lingering issue, defendant decided to stay in vicinity to wait and talk with the police. Until the police arrived, he maintained approximately 75 feet distance from the group. While waiting, defendant overheard Anderson making various false accusations and embellished statements while affecting jocular, self-satisfied facial gestures occasionally flashing arrogant smirks at defendant and winking to his friends. By staying in area, they betrayed they were never actually menaced by defendant. At this point, defendant decided to video events for legal purposes. nonthreatingly, Anderson implicatively exclaimed to the dispatcher, "hey... he's pulling something out of his pocket." Responsively in defense, defendant began to communicate, and from a distance (requiring higher decibel), to the dispatcher that he was not menacing, attacking the accusers, nor displaying a weapon but only a cell-phone (and for clarification). Within minutes, two West Sacramento Police squad vehicles speedily arrived, abruptly stopped and shined a blinding spotlight on defendant's face who was still standing approximately 75 feet distance from accusers. Noviolence, criminal activity, nor imminent threat was occurring at the moment. Militantly, officers exited the vehicles. Some immediately commenced taking statements from accusers calmly and respectfully. Another, Officer Wilson advanced toward defendant. They immediately and unreasonably escalated to a de facto arrest.

After actually complying with an arbitrary order (expressed with excess command presence) to "sit on the bench," he expressed feeling he was oppressed, stating, "You're bully me." After a moment waiting on the bench, Semeryk approached with Coulter following behind. They expressed desire to perform a frisk search. With intent to cooperate with and facilitate their wish expressed, defendant calmly removed (with a subconscious sense of liberty with respect to movement of his limbs) his backpack which he was wearing. He asserts: "intuitive common sense dictated that removal of this was necessary as less obstructing to a frisk, and necessary for a separate search of it – I resented the thought of disrespected to my*

As Semeryk came within arms length, with a premeditated quick reflex, he suddenly lunged at defendant’s cell phone. Defendant reflexed by pulling his hand backward ‘to avoid this abrupt, purposed frustration of my filming effort, and to avoid this inappropriate seizure of my property (said cell phone).’ (He asserts, “Firmly, I held conviction that: 1. I had a Constitutional right to record this incident, and 2. Such a seizure, and without respectful communication, was unlawful and corrupt”) As a result of the force of this lunge

Horton violently pulled back and I observed him reaching toward the backpack he had just taken off. I pulled Horton away form (sic) the backpack by his right hand and assisted him to the ground into the prone position by guiding his head toward the ground with my right hand.” Selectively, Semeryk omitted from his police report that, at this moment, he attempted a seizure of a defendant’s cell phone without cause. In response, defendant avers: while compliantly seated on a bench, Semeryk advanced toward him conveying intent to listen to his account of the incident while fixing malicious eye contact. Immediately thereafter, in an unprovoked fit of rage, Semeryk grabbed defendant and forcefully pulled him off the bench and into the center of the Riverwalk path without mention of placing him under arrest. Semeryk averred in his police report, "I pulled Horton away from the backpack by his right (defendant was holding his cell phone in his right hand) and assisted him to the ground into the prone position by guiding his head toward the ground with my right hand. Officer Coulter immediately assisted in applying a control hold on Horton's left arm." Implying resistance, he continued, "Horton resisted with great physical exertion while trying to free his right hand from my grip and bring it toward his waist area..." In response defendant avers:

I was holding my hand high and to my right fixing attention on it while otherwise enduring what I rationally believed to be police brutality – not an arrest, since no mention of arrest was made. All the while, I was being dragged and pushed by Officer Semeryk without knowing why, but I did not resist nor respond with physical retaliation. Officer Coulter, meanwhile, was observing from approximately fifteen feet to the north. At the exact moment I accomplished saving data... Coulter announced, ‘You’re under arrest... stop resisting.’ Immediately, I became compliant with all requests.” Officer Semeryk ordered me to the ground and preformed a forceful frisk while communicating a litany of taunts and insults. Secondly, as to implications about "incoherent statements," he states: "Actually, I verbally alluded with concise statements to my rational belief that the arrest was false and pretextual involving civil rights violations as a First amendment right. I was in fact cogent in context questioning and correcting their misconduct as a civic duty. My statements were few, brief – not belligerent, yet firm and adamant. Solomon v. Auburn Hills Police Department

(2004) 389 F.3d 167). Also, it held that “In assessing reasonableness, it is necessary to take into account the “totality of circumstances that bear on the use of force.” The circumstances are as follows: Youthful informants reported a very minor offense, Defendant was carrying no open (or other actual) weapon, There was no crime nor violent activity in progress (not before for that matter) at the scene, Defendant’s demeanor was non-violent and relatively calm – he was only zealously interested in equal protection to be heard about begin falsely accused, Defendant was wearing a backpack; however, a clothing item worn on the back precludes expeditious access to its contents, hence his front posed no threat. Semeryk’s only assertion relevant to ‘safety of a police officer” referenced his “appearance of a transient/homeless person” – a discriminatory profile (from which he derived unreasonable assumptions). Terry v. Ohio has held, “Intrusions upon constitutionally guaranteed rights must be based on more than inarticulate hunches, and simple good faith on inarticulate hunches, and simple good faith on part of officer is not enough” ( Terry v. Ohio (1868) 392 U.S.1). Furthermore, “In justifying particular intrusion, police officer must be able to point to specific and articulable facts which, taken together with rational inferences from these acts reasonably warrant that intrusion; facts must be judged against objective standard of whether facts available to officer at moment of seizure or search warrant man of reasonable caution belief that action taken was appropriate” ( Terry). Likewise, in in Dunaway v. New York, the court held, “Hostility based on mere suspicion was a prime motivation for the adoption of the Fourth amendment.” Police claims concerning defiant behavior are prejudicial based on misperception and conflict-of-interest. Defendant reasonably expected to endure an investigatory stop. Reasonably, he initiated attempts to communicate asserting his equal protection rights to be heard concerning facts. Officers immediately denied them by immediate and unreasonable escalation to de facto arrest when Cal. Penal Code §§ 837 precludes arrest of suspect for a misdemeanor not committed in the presence of officers. By exhibiting excess command presence, they betrayed hyper-vigilant intent to maliciously prosecute behaving prejudicial toward client.

Although Terry court held, "Police may in appropriate circumstances appropriate manner Terry) approach person for purposes of investigating possible criminal behavior even though there is no probable cause to make an arrest," officers' initial manner of approach was unreasonable and inappropriate given the totality of circumstances. "Courts have responsibility to guard against police conduct which is overbearing or harassing or which trenches upon personal security without objective evidentiary justification which Constitution requires..." ( . In consideration of the above, the officers' high alert status was extremely paranoid and extreme In context

extremely paranoid and extreme. In context, defendant did not resist arrest, but was only protecting evidence while victimized by police misconduct. Using his right hand to save data on his cell phone before during the process, defendant was dropped. In consideration of this train of events, defendant has rational reason to induce that his arrest was malicious and pretextual to acquire his phone discovery concerning a surrounding situational context. According to U.S. v. Mota, "Arrest is mere pretext for search if motivation or primary purpose of arresting officers is to arrest defendant for minor offense so as to allow police to search for evidence of unrelated offense for which police lack probable cause to arrest or search" (U.S. v. Mota (1993) 9982 F.2d).

CONCLUSION Charge is minor based on minimal evidentiary facts. As a matter, the first charge stemming from Anderson's citizen's arrest was dropped before arraignment.

Moreover, weight of evidence supports assertion that defendant has been targeted for harassment and malicious, pretextual arrest. Defendant is not even resident of area but has been traveling; he desires to move on; is being administratively harassed by being restrained to an area unreasonably against his will. He has no outstanding warrants and a very minimal criminal record. Zealous prosecution would only reinforce defendant's belief that exploitation of such a minor offense is pretextual for a malicious ulterior motive and would belabor the Court with unnecessary expense. Therefore, it would be in the interest of justice for the Court to dismiss charge.

For the reasons stated above, the defendant respectfully requests that this Penal code section 995 motion be granted and his motion dismiss... (Motion to Set Aside Information Due to Lack of Probable Cause. 13-3628. 05042014.)

“MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES
STATEMENT OF FACTS...

• On 06/29/2016, at continued sentencing hearing, Maguire (conspicuously) retaliated maliciously against my most recent motion and with motive and intent to preemptively obstruct Post-Trial and succeeding causes for civil actions. On the record, the hearing was completely one-sided – Obstructionist.

Petitioner appeared prepared to orate in support and in defense on issues relevant to sentencing by statute; He attempted to raise and then asserted to raise them.

Maguire blatantly denied Due Process precluding right to speak. Continually, he interrupted attempts to assert right for hearing on matter. Furthermore, he reversed accused Petitioner overbearingly insisting he not “interrupt.” Maguire also forbade right to state objections during an Unconstitutional, ex-parte “presentation” by the District Attorney’s Office.

Court acted to unjustly Duress Petitioner to accept settlement offer for a nonstatutory, Unconstitutional alternate to sentencing.

Judge opened with

prosecution. A Christopher Bulkley, Deputy District

Attorney appeared present not prosecutor on record in the case and during trial (Fritz Van Der Hoek). Bulkeley gave improper, prepared presentation endorsing (on record) a newly conceived “program” – the “Diversionary Homeless

Program.” Accordingly, Petitioner would be Coerced to concede to Admission of Guilt, progress through stages of a thought-control program, accept “Incompetent to Stand Trial” status and controlled, free housing for indefinite period of time (when I am not even native to this state or county). Since I rejected said offer stating it to be unconstitutional on the record, Maguire persisted to

Maliciously Retaliate with Gross Abuse of Discretion.

Bulkeley reiterated intent to Maliciously Raise Doubt about Competence to Stand Trial! Maguire threatened

(even Blackmailed) with Prejudice in Sentencing Phase

– an excessive, maximum jail term (upon wrongful

conviction while refusing to hear Petitioner on issues at – an alternate to statutory punishments diverting Post-

Trial Due Process. He Vindictively revoked Right to Self-

Represent during sentencing and appointed Public Defender for counsel in error. Court specified revocation to be "... ON THIS CASE ONLY FOR SENTENCING."

(Please see Appendix F(1)(e).) Judge verbally confirmed, per Petitioner's inquiry in open court, Petitioner otherwise remains Pro-Se in all cases. As reasoning, Maguire rationalized malicious prejudice against Petitioner's aggressive defense as behavior indicating mental incompetence. He argued oversimplistically: Petitioner's rejection of said counsel was believed by himself to be "irrational." Furthermore, Respondent refused to permit objections to Unconstitutional Acts of "forcing a lawyer" upon a defendant while fully aware of Irreconcilable, Substantial Conflict with same counsel.

Court continued sentencing until 07/13/2016. Petitioner filed Faretta motion on 07/11/2016. (Please see Appendix F(6).) •

On 07/13/2016, Judge Maguire, in Department 10, was occupied by another incomplete trial and was unavailable. Upon appearing, Petitioner was informed by Bailiff that court transferred hearing to Department 9, Traffic Court before Judge J. Beronio in lieu of the overburden to "the time and resources of the court. Therefore, due to

“the time and resources of the court. Therefore, due to complications of case, the court then continued sentencing until 07/27/2016 at 1000 in Department 10. • On 07/27/2016, Petitioner appeared at 1000 for continued sentencing hearing. Judge Maguire blatantly obstructed Due Process refusing to hear Petitioner upon issues for which he came prepared. Court claimed “FAILURE TO APPEAR” as reflected within minutes and case summary reports, yet maliciously granted prosecution’s oral motion to charge with Contempt for “(mis)behavior in court.” Postjudge’s communicated refusal (at the bench) to hear Petitioner, and on record, he grossly Abused Legal Process issuing bench warrant. Court delivered Minute Sheet reflecting that a warrant review hearing was set for 08/24/2016. Date was already overburdened with hearings scheduled on compounded matters: vacated sentencing, oral argument upon Faretta motion, and neglected matters in all other cases, etc. • Date for case 15-6705 concurrently with case 14-1219 has been set for...” (C-084025-op-petition-ptw-horton Above).

matter of the gravest weight in the history of both the United States of America and Civilization of the entire World during these End Times prophesied risen from decades of a Treacherous “Occultic Conspiracy” which has been diversionarily misnomered “The Cold War” by minimizing, secularized historians and politicians of the latter twentieth century. During this period of misrepresented history, an unnumbered multitude amongst the most lawful have disappeared while their records have been destroyed within my borders. I am left during same period of “Great Tribulation” guilefully denied by a remaining populace with bloody hands in collusion with “The Great Whore of Babylon” drunk with the blood of the saints. Her seat currently still resides on seven hills riding a Beast hypocritically while conspiratorially operating through the remaining Treason within my nation's borders by illegal, secret treaties considering its territory annexed to same "Babylon." None of its conduct is legitimate being completely Unconstitutional in hypocrisy. This all has been undeniably irrefutable during this Insurrection of satan's servants. It is all public knowledge despite being treasonously omitted from all press and media only disseminating subversion and false-propaganda hostile to National Security Interest and the Overriding Public Interest of any upstanding who have not forfeited their Fundamental Rights by complicity and collusion with said Treason.

Wherefore,

I, Jacob (James E. Horton), hereby, proclaim: 1. Incidents of this casematter aforesaid to be historically termed "The Great Mockery of Justice" as a political matter in the history of MY nation, The United States of America; and 2. Both the

“McCarthy Case” matter, of MY nation, and the “Profuma Affair” disposition according to one historical “Denning Report” (also a heretical mockery of jurisprudence and moral order within the political history of Great Britain) to be, effectively, overruled as Per Incuriam by the weight of the Looptank Insurrection Analysis, as authored by myself [Jacob (James E. Horton)] as malevolent and unlawful precedents which have “Endorsed Lawlessness.”

This drawing, often labeled in error as Barnabas Horton (1600-1680), is actually of JONATHAN GOLDSMITH HORTON. He was a 3rd great grandson of Barnabas and the last Horton descendant to live in the house before it was torn down in 1878. It was included on a memorial drawing about Barnabas Horton's house in Southold, Long Island. "J. G. Horton Esq" is seen on the jacket at bottom of picture.

Governor Schwarzenegger Appoints 12 to Superior Courts Around State

By STEVEN M. ELLIS, Staff Writer

Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger yesterday appointed 12 people, including six Republicans, five Democrats and one registered decline-to-state, to superior court judgeships in 10 counties.

The governor named Assistant U.S. Attorney Ioana Petrou of the Northern District of California to the Alameda Superior Court and Contra Costa County Deputy Public Defender Christopher R. Bowen to the Contra Costa Superior Court, named Fresno Superior Court

Commissioner Jonathan M. Skiles as a

Commissioner Jonathan M. Skiles as a judge of that court, and appointed Bakersfield attorney Thomas S. Clark and Assistant Kern County Counsel Stephen D. Schuett to the Kern Superior Court.

This drawing, often labeled in error as Barnabas Horton (1600-1680), is actually of JONATHAN GOLDSMITH HORTON. He was a 3rd great grandson of Barnabas and the last Horton descendant to live in the house before it was torn down in 1878. It was included on a memorial drawing about Barnabas Horton's house in Southold, Long Island. "J. G. Horton Esq" is seen on the jacket at bottom of picture.

Penn's Frame of Government. — During the months which passed before his own journey to America, Penn occupied much time and thought in shaping a plan, or, as he called it, a "Frame of Government," for his province. In the composition of this document he sought the advice of Algernon

Here is a collection of those articles, plus occasional articles from other contributors

The early days of 'Penn's Woods'

March 03 , 2009 Filed in: Quakers | Pennsylvania | People

William Penn was born October 14, 1644 and was greeted with large crowds of supporters. Philadelphia was a tolerant and bustling city of 3,000 with merchants, tree-lined streets, and was the son of royalist Sir William Penn, a famous Admiral who served in the British Navy. Young William was raised during the unstable time in England of Oliver Cromwell's reign and the Glorious Revolution. At the age of 15, Penn met Thomas Loe, a Quaker missionary who taught him the Quaker beliefs of pacifism and equality. A few years later, while at school in Oxford, Penn developed his individuality and philosophy of life and became sympathetic to the Quaker religion. Raised an Anglican, Penn converted to Quakerism at the age of 22, much to the extreme disapproval of his father.

The King of England owed William Penn's father £16,000. To repay his debt, King Charles II granted the young Penn 45,000 square miles of land to establish a colony in "regard to the memorie and merits of his late father" on

“regard to the memorie and merits of his late father” on March 4, 1681. The land for this colony was to be located between the 39th and 42nd degrees north latitude and from the start of the Delaware River continuing westward 5 degrees longitude.

Penn first referred to his land as “New Wales” and then “Sylvania” (meaning woods or forest in Latin). King Charles added “Penn” to the title in honor of Admiral Penn. The younger William Penn was only 37 years old when he gained sovereign rule of the new territory known as Pennsylvania.

Penn worked quickly to establish a colony like no other in the New World. He recruited fellow Englishmen of every trade and skill to join him. From simple farmers to wealthy businessmen, Penn needed every type of settler (or “adventurer,” as he called them) to help create a successful colony. In 1682, with his strong Quaker ideals in place, Penn left England for Pennsylvania onboard the ship named the Welcome.

Penn created a town at the mouth of the Delaware River to promote commerce and government; he named the town, Philadelphia which was Greek for “city of brotherly love.” To ensure his colony would remain peaceful, Penn purchased the land from the local Native Americans. He also comforted groups of Dutch settlers who had already lived along the Delaware River that his colony was one of acceptance and that they would be free from religious persecution...

Establishing laws and a sound government was crucial to the survival of Pennsylvania. An Assembly was formed in order to develop a government created by the people with laws embodying Quaker ideals, quite a different approach from the laws established in England. Having an Assembly would ensure that power did not fall into the hands of only one person – including Penn himself. This government was based on Quaker ethics. Two legislative houses would protect citizens’ property and business ventures and would impose taxes fairly. All cases were to be heard before a jury, and prisons were designed to focus on correcting behavior rather than merely holding captives. The death penalty was still applicable in cases of treason and murder. After many drafts, Penn wrote The Charter of Privileges in 1701; this document lasted until the start of the American Revolution, when it was replaced by the State Constitution

(https://www.monroehistorical.org/articles\_files/030809\_penn.html).

The very first Thanksgiving took place several hundred miles from Philadelphia, and happened about fifty years before William Penn set foot on the soil that became Philadelphia. Nevertheless, this time of year it's easy to wonder what Penn must have thought when he first hopped off the boat in the fall of 1682 after a long voyage from England.

Most of the early descriptions of Pennsylvania relate to the fecundity of the land. These were written as part of an extensive recruiting effort to get more people to settle here. Descriptions detailing thriving crops, animals fattening on rich pasture, and peaches falling from the trees tempted settlers from England.

We also know from correspondence that Penn was completely smitten with the natural landscape. He wrote “The woods are adorned with lovely flowers . . . I have seen the gardens of London best stored with that sort of beauty but think they may be improved by our woods.” The England he left behind had beautiful forests and parkland (mostly private,) but fall color was muted at best. The leaves on most deciduous English trees turn brown or tan before falling to the ground.

Yet in the New World different types of maples blazed red and yellow, alongside purple sweetgum and orange sassafras. Sumac glowed, and towering tulip poplars showered golden leaves onto the ground far below. The first few waves of European immigrants would have had a hard time believing their eyes, when the magic trick that is American autumn began to unfold.

It didn't take long for the seeds of the great American trees to get back to Europe, thanks to our own John Bartram. Today the trees of various continents are salted pretty evenly throughout the temperate parts of the globe.

Imagine if Penn hadn't been so taken with the forests he found in the New World. Instead of naming his new territory Penn's Sylvania (Penn's Woods) he might have chosen a different name for the colony, and we would be living someplace else. Pennessee? Penntucky? Pennsiana? None have the same ring, and none serve as a reminder of the natural beauty of our part of the world (<https://why.org/articles/200-years-of-change-to-the-nw-landscape/>).

these End Times prophesied risen from decades of a Treacherous “Occultic Conspiracy” which has been diversionarily misnomered “The Cold War” by minimizing, secularized historians and politicians of the latter twentieth century. During this period of misrepresented history, an unnumbered multitude amongst the most lawful have disappeared while their records have been destroyed within my borders. I am left during same period of “Great Tribulation” guilefully denied by a remaining populace with bloody hands in collusion with “The Great Whore of Babylon” drunk with the blood of the saints. Her seat currently still resides on seven hills riding a Beast hypocritically while conspiratorially operating through the remaining Treason within my nation’s borders by illegal, secret treaties considering its territory annexed to same “Babylon.” None of its conduct is legitimate.

“Babylon.” None of its conduct is legitimate being completely Unconstitutional in hypocrisy. This all has been undeniably irrefutable during this Insurrection of satan’s servants. It is all public knowledge despite being treasonously omitted from all press and media only disseminating subversion and false-propaganda hostile to National Security Interest and the Overriding Public Interest of any upstanding who have not forfeited their Fundamental Rights by complicity and collusion with said Treason.

Wherefore,

I, Jacob (James E. Horton), hereby, proclaim: 1. Incidents of this casematter aforesaid to be historically termed “The Great Mockery of Justice” as a political matter in the history of MY nation, The United States of America; and, 2. Both the “McCarthy Case” mater, of MY nation, and the “Profuma Affair” disposition according to one historical “Denning Report” (also a heretical mockery of jurisprudence and moral order within the politucal history of Great Britain) to be, effectively, overruled as Per Incuriam by the weight of the Looptank Insurrection Analysis, as authored by myself [Jacob (James E. Horton)] as malevolent and unlawful precedents which have “Endorsed Lawlessness.”

America and Americans

(Stanford)
Opinion of American Authors on the Books and Literature

This Stanback seems to be pretty accurate with his perceptive insights on Americans.
So far, I have never taken different opinions, but I can see how he could perceive this.
Still, I have agreed.

Was this guy another drunk
among the educated figures in 30's looking at the country?

It is not my way for an uneducated side of a friend.

Foreword

definitely. I have never of these things.

In text and pictures, this is a book of opinions, unchangeable and individual. For centuries America and the Americans have been the target for opinions—Asian, African, and European—only these opinions have been called criticism, literary value, or God help us, earnestness. Unfortunately, Americans have not been able to understand the value of their their critics. For our own part, we have denounced, scolded, celebrated, and lied about facts and bits and pieces of our own country and countrymen; but I know of no native work of inspection of our whole nation and its citizens by a foreigner in the glass American, another opinion.

So long as our evaluations indulged in simple tricks and distortions (the same was harmless and sometimes interesting) But when, after 1918, systems arose which required a blatant to balance their home-grown blatant America as a powerful nation and a successful system became the natural enemy for these governments which were not doing so well. Since these same governments had closed their frontiers to their own people, they were free to make any generalizations they wished without the disadvantage of having to base them on observation.

This essay is not an attempt to answer or refute the savage-like propaganda which is ground out of our differences.
It cannot even pretend to be objective truth. Of course it is opinion, conjecture, and speculation. What else could it be?
But at least it is informed by America, and inspired by curiosity, impatience, some anger, and a passionate love of America and the Americans. For I believe that out of the whole body of our past, out of our differences, our quarrels, our many interests and directions, something has emerged that is itself unique in the world: America—complicated, paradoxical, bullheaded, shy, cruel, boisterous, unspeakably dear, and very beautiful.

If the text is opinionated, so are the pictures. The camera may record exactly, but it can set down only what its operator sees, and he sees what he wants to see—what he loves and hates and pities and is proud of. So that the pictures in this book, taken by photographers whose ancestral origins cover the whole world, whose backgrounds and experiences are as diversified as their styles and methods and camera techniques, are also opinions—American opinions. None of these pictures could have been taken anywhere but in America. A European, an African, or an Asian will not find in them an America that he has seen or would see here. But if he is open and sensitive he may learn of what our country is like to us, what we feel about it: our shame in its failures, our pride in its successes, our wonder at its size and diversity, and, above all,
our passionate devotion to it—to all of it, the land, the idea,
and the mystique.)

I know of course that every country has its parallel. No foreigner can know and feel about England as an Englishman does, with his two thousand years in depth. I have seen a Pole kiss the earth of his homeland on returning, and a Dane shyly caress with his hands a ruddy iron stanchion on a Copenhagen dock. It is not that Americans are different in the quality of their feeling, but this feeling has rarely been set down about our whole country.

Americans—a new breed, rooted in all races, stained and tinted with all colors, a seeming ethnic anarchy.

Our land is of every kind geologically and climatically, and our people are of every kind also—of every race, of every ethnic category—and yet our land is one nation, and our people are Americans. Mottos have a way of being compounded of wishes and dreams. The motto of the United States, "E. Pluribus Unum," is a fact. This is the strange and almost unbelievable truth, and even stranger is the fact that the unit America has come into being in slightly over four hundred years—almost exactly the same amount of time as that during which England was occupied by the Roman legions.

It is customary (indeed, at high-school graduations it is a requirement) for speakers to refer to America as a "precious inheritance"—our heritage, a gift proffered like a sandwich wrapped in plastic on a plastic tray. Our ancestors, so it is implied, gathered to the invitation of a golden land and accepted the sacrament of milk and honey. This is not so.

In the beginning, we crept, scuttled, escaped, were driven out of the safe and settled corners of the earth to the fringes of a strange and hostile wilderness, a nameless, hostile continent. Some races controlled large sections of unpopulated territory, in places they did not even yet know, as cheap gifts to ourselves or to our enemies for the purpose of getting rid of them. Many others were sent here as a punishment for penal offences. Far from welcoming us, this continent resisted us. The Indians fought to the last of their ability to hold on to a land they thought was theirs. The rocky soils fought back, and the bewildering forests, and the deserts. Diseases, unknown and therefore incurable, decimated the early comers, and in their urgency of restlessness they fought one another. This land was no gift. The firstlings worked for it, fought for it, and died for it. They stole and cheated and double-crossed for it, and when they had taken a little piece, the way a fierce-hearted man ropes a wild mustang, they had then to gentle it and smooth it and make it habitable at all. Once they had a foothold, they had to defend their holdings against new waves of the restless and ferocious and hungry.

America did not exist. Four centuries of work, of blood shed, of loneliness and loss created this land. We built America and the process made us Americans on new blood.

that change is

OK (circled) understanding ourselves while it doubtless draws from European and Asiatic sources, nevertheless it is entirely unique and a mystery to non-Americans but a matter of pride to Americans themselves. That it works at all is surprising, and that it works well is a matter for complete astonishment. Americans believe in self and their own society perhaps best expressed by the phrase "The American Way of Life" followed by "The Right City Hall." In our thinking about confounding the blessings of our system on other people we forget that ours is the product of our own history which has not been duplicated anywhere else in the world.
We have amassed a set of prejudices and feelings which doubtless grew out of one time or fact in our background, but which are just as strongly held values we do not know that have been.

The example of American history will not, however, have a lost and a hatred of any perpetuation of power, political selfishness, or immorality. Whether this anxiety stems from what amounts to a folk memory of our own revolutions against the England of George III, or whether in the family background of all Americans from all parts of the world there is an inert memory of the foreign tyrannies which were the cause of their coming here in the first place, it is hard to say. Perhaps it is a combination of both, but, whatever its source, it is a very real thing. An obvious concentration of power or an official with a power potential causes in Americans first a suspicion, then suspicion, and finally—if the official continues to exert too long a dominating personal authority, and this happens whether or not the office in question is exalted. Many a public servant has been cast out of office for no other reason than that he has been too long. In President Roosevelt's third and fourth terms, more people who had been his passionate partisans were turned against him by pure atomism than the opposition ever turned against him by pure atomism.

[illegible]

In the short history of our nation, the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has been a constant presence in which people have found in the communicating medium of which printed words denote the sympathies of President and Vice President. The chief of these communications is leading the process of the communications printed to conduct according to the common law and common sense. The communicating speeches are like letters in their natural condition. That, after each communication's action is put in communication, the past cannot all return and the future cannot be predicted.

Facts: Aprox. between 1:30 PM and 2:00 PM: while visiting for purchase with EBT card (repeating customer), immediately clerk, unprovoked with disruption of any kind, instantly ordered, "You go, get out..." He CLAIMED as ulterior motive: "No homeless people aloud!" This was even highly assumptive! I am a human being who walked into the store! This betrayed conspiratorial collusion by Abuses of Investigatory means with undue attention maliciously predisposed to Reputation Harm detrimental to Life, Limb and Liberty prima-facie by denial as customer to "buy!" Culprit, the clerk, accosted with assault with a wooden rod as a bat; same initiated malicious false-report to police dispatch on basis stated to recipient: "Homeless people too much problem in my store."

I left... reported to dispatch by phone at 2:06 PM actual facts. I demanded, and still do DEMAND his arrest upon accusations aforementioned in DETERRENCE JUSTLY as OBLIGATED DUTY to not OBSTRUCT JUSTICE in COLLUSION. Attitude of Dispatcher, Brian, Betrayed obvious and conspicuous Malicious Predisposition in premeditated and Aggravated collusion with these joindered acts of Conspiracy in context of all of the litany of MY just reports to your agency and, therefore, guilt as party of it! # “MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES STATEMENT OF FACTS...

292014, per request of Public Defender granted in error, said case was accrued to dockets of “trailing” cases as aforementioned (contrary to Petitioner’s stated desires for defense). Case is still pending, “trailing” also neglected.

° Anomalous procedure motioned for aforesaid grossly prejudiced Petitioner prima-facie. By such gross abuses of discretion, Due Process has been grossly denied. Petitioner expressed contrary desires during very few, inadequate consultations with counsel. Furthermore, although cases subsequent were repeatedly vacated (unspoken) as “trailing,” still records (Minute Sheets and Case Summary Reports) falsely reflect “Matter Heard” for hearings in each severally. Thereby, cases have compounded together to Overburden simultaneously. Above also constitutes extreme Abuse of Legal Process violating petitioner’s Speedy Trial and Fair Trial Rights. Repeatedly (both to counsel in meeting and in open court), he has raised discrepancy about these acts of

Proceeding Misconducted Unlawful Continuation

Procedural Misconduct and Harassment. Continually, he has been prejudicially ignored on issue. Court has responded only incrementally more and more Malicious and Retaliatory.

. During pendencies, Court obligated Petitioner to attend total of 45 pretrial hearings and 3 days of 1 trial for which sentence hearing and judgement are delayed. The trial is not concluded. Hearings have resulted in a long train of blatant prejudicial denials flying in the face of Constitutional Rights.

° Since commencements, Petitioner successfully raised issues of substantial conflict due to ineffective counsel (completely adverse to adequate defense violating attorney-client privilege and Attorney's Oath) and right to waive counsel. Therefore, court granted right to self-represent in all case during oral hearing on 12072015 upon reasoning above herein. Need for competent counsel necessitated assertion of right — Petitioner is law trained.

° A case: 14-4497 initiated by Woodland Police Department alleging violation of PC § 415(1). Facts are that a Corporal baited Petitioner by blocking entrance to Police Station retaliating against his intent to acquire a citizen's complaint form concerning prior misconduct. Said case was dismissed upon motion to dismiss (of Petitioner, Pro Se) and for lack of sufficient evidence on 01272016. As a result, Petitioner cause for civil action... • Actually, proceedings since 06222016 constituted “Mistrial.” At continued trial readiness on 06152016, Petitioner, again, requested continuance (with showing of cause and merit) in lieu of inordinate, untimely delay (byAppellate Department) of decisions upon his Petition forWrit of Mandate and Request for Stay therein. In response, Judge Maguire: 1) vacated conference until 06172016; 2) then, ordered parties to “file papers” (and by vacated date of 06172016) informing Appellate Department concerning delays as above. Thereby, only less than two days were given for motion practice, per order, with disregard for statutory procedure at issue (reasonable deadlines). On 06172016, prior to hearing, Petitioner (being procedurally overburdened unfairly) filed an ANSWER TO RESPONDENT’S REPLY BRIEF addressing, as order, issue of said delays. (Please refer to Appendix F(3).)

At continued hearing on 06172016, Judge Maguire

informed of denial of stay and set jury selection to begin 06222016. Court prejudicially denied his motions for mistrial. Petitioner (at least) twice orally moved for mistrial upon above facts; he motioned on same date, in open court (06172016), and then during evidentiary procedure hearing (06222016). Judge reasoned, in part, that he only excepts motions in writing (and during oral argument proceedings).

- Post further gross abuses abuses of discretion occurring between 06152016 and 06172016, trial wrongfully proceeded on 06222016. Several Due Process violations occurred during trial. Just three examples are as follows:

- During voir-dire selection on 06232016, Supervisor of Woodland Police Department's Detective Unit was detected in jury box. Said presence of Officer (Agent of Party in Interest) evidenced intent to collude and conspire in acts of tampering and/or unduly coercing the jury – evidence of a

“tainted” jury.

- During fact-trying, prosecution based its case solely upon non-corroborated, unproven accusation of one accuser. Evidence presented (by prosecution) included:1. Fabricated facts testified by informant as first witness [(being incompetent, irrelevant to charge, inconsistent and contradictory and thus challenged by Petitioner’s motion to impeach on the record, and during cross-examination) (Black’s Law Dictionary 409 Abridged 6th edition 1991)],

2. Electronic audio recording of dispatch call – the initial accusation – reported by said first witness (which included audible background of Petitioner, from a distance, orating about the false report while departing),

3. Second and last witness, Officer Guthrie of the Woodland Police Department testified that he did not witness incident at scene of complaint while further parol testimony only evidenced that Petitioner had departed scene of incident without Fighting.

Yet, jury reached wrongful verdict of “guilty” and Petitioner was wrongfully convicted of violation of PC ss 415.

Furthermore, trial, to this date, is still incomplete. Court is delaying sentencing, hence judgement, egregiously inordinate. Jury decision and verdict on 06242016 has been last trial decision thus far. Judge, on same date, continued sentencing phase until 06292016. Therefore, under such “Extraordinary Circumstances” (specifically with respect to delayed sentencing and judgement in bad-faith), Petitioner, on 06282016, filed Motion to Vacate
Judgement arguing following headed points: CASE
IS STILL PENDING UPON
INORDINATELY DELAYED DECISION

ON

(PETITIONER'S) PETITION FOR WRIT OF MANDATE, and that FAIR TRIAL PREJUDICIALLY HARMED BY UNDUE INFLUENCE UPON JURY. (Please refer to

Appendix F(5).)

- On 06292016, at continued sentencing hearing, Maguire (conspicuously) retaliated maliciously against my most recent motion and with motive and intent to preemptively obstruct Post-Trial and succeeding causes for civil actions. On the record, the hearing was completely one-sided – Obstructionist.

Petitioner appeared prepared to orate in support and in defense on issues relevant to sentencing by statute; He attempted to raise and then asserted to raise them.

Maguire blatantly denied Due Process precluding right to speak. Continually, he interrupted attempts to assert right for hearing on matter. Furthermore, he reversed accused Petitioner overbearingly insisting he not "interrupt" Maguire also

he not “interrupt.” Maguire also forbade right to state objections during an Unconstitutional, ex-parte “presentation” by the District Attorney’s Office.

Court acted to unjustly Duress Petitioner to accept settlement offer for a nonstatutory, Unconstitutional alternate to sentencing. Judge opened with prosecution. A Christopher Bulkley, Deputy District Attorney appeared present

- not prosecutor on record in the case and during trial (Fritz Van Der Hoek).

Bulkeley gave improper, prepared presentation endorsing (on record) a newly conceived “program” – the “Diversionary Homeless Program.” Accordingly,

Petitioner would be Coerced to concede to Admission of Guilt, progress through stages of a thought-control program, accept “Incompetent to Stand Trial” status and controlled, free housing for indefinite period of time (when I am not even native to this state or county).

Since I rejected said offer stating it to be unconstitutional on the record,

Maguire persisted to Maliciously Retaliate with Gross

Abuse of Discretion. Bulkeley

reiterated intent to Maliciously Raise Doubt about Competence to Stand Trial!

Maguire threatened (even Blackmailed) with Prejudice in Sentencing Phase – an excessive, maximum jail term (upon wrongful conviction while refusing to hear Petitioner on issues at hand for which he came prepared) as ultimatum to offer – an alternate to statutory punishments diverting Post-Trial Due Process. He Vindictively revoked Right to Self-Represent during sentencing and appointed Public Defender for counsel in error. Court specified revocation to be “... ON THIS CASE ONLY FOR SENTENCING.” (Please see Appendix F(1)(e).) Judge verbally confirmed, per Petitioner’s inquiry in open court, Petitioner otherwise remains Pro-Se in all cases.

As reasoning, Maguire rationalized malicious prejudice against Petitioner’s aggressive defense as behavior indicating mental incompetence. He argued

oversimply: Petitioner’s rejection of said counsel was believed by himself to be

“irrational.” Furthermore, Respondent refused to permit objections to Unconstitutional

aware of Irreconcilable, Substantial Conflict with same counsel. Court continued sentencing until 07132016.

Petitioner filed Faretta motion on 07112016. (Please see Appendix F(6).)

- On 07132016, Judge Maguire, in Department 10, was occupied by another incomplete trial and was unavailable. Upon appearing, Petitioner was informed by Bailiff that court transferred hearing to Department 9, Traffic Court

before Judge J. Beronio in lieu of the overburden to “the time and resources of the court. Therefore, due to complications of case, the court then continued sentencing

until 07272016 at 1000 in Department 10.

- On 07272016, Petitioner appeared at 1000 for continued sentencing hearing. Judge Maguire blatantly obstructed Due Process refusing to hear Petitioner upon issues for which he came prepared. Court claimed “FAILURE TO APPEAR” as reflected within minutes and case summary reports, yet maliciously granted prosecution’s oral motion to charge with Contempt for “(mis)behavior in court.” Post judge’s communicated refusal (at the bench) to hear Petitioner, and on record, he

grossly Abused Legal Process issuing bench warrant.

Court delivered Minute Sheet

reflecting that a warrant review hearing was set for 08242016. Date was already overburdened with hearings scheduled on compounded matters: vacated sentencing, oral argument upon Faretta motion, and neglected matters in all other cases, etc.

- Date for case 15-6705 concurrently with case 14-1219 has been set for

2. Meanwhile, continued “trailing” date for case 13-3628 concurrently with 13-23865 has been set, separated from others, for 02212017. Scheduling occurred as result of 2 separate false arrests upon 4 false bench warrants by Woodland Police Department on 11152016 and 11212016. Petitioner holds issued warrants constituted gross abuse of discretion and malicious Abuse of Legal Process on following grounds:
  1. Although absent in Respondent court on 08242016, Petitioner was circumstantially unable to appear. He was occupied with procedure of serving Petition for Extraordinary Writ and while indigent, without adequate transportation and distant.
  2. Petitioner requested stay of proceedings within Petition aforesaid. 3. Hearing date on 08242016 was set for multiplicity of matters in all cases simultaneously being continued since 07272016.

Colluding public officials exploited anomalous “trailing” procedure to harass

Petitioner with multiplication of warrants and arrests upon single hearing. Petitioner was, during this time, constantly active preparing for sentencing and motion practice.

Frivolous restraints disrupted his abilities to prepare and practice. (Please refer to

Appendix F(8).)

- On 08192016, Petitioner filed Petitioner for Writ of Habeas Corpus in Court of Appeals – Third District.

- On 11092016, Officer of Woodland Police Department frivolously stopped and questioned Petitioner. He arrested upon single bench warrant for case: 15-6705.

During booking, Yolo County Sheriff's Department, and on same date, also scheduled hearing for case: 14-1219 concurrently prior to release.

- On 11212016, two officers of Woodland Police Department approached Petitioner traversing sidewalk in Woodland. One officer

abruptly and informally
inquired of Petitioner for his name. Petitioner questioned concerning Reasonable Suspicion and officer responded that they were not stopping – “only saying hello.”
Petitioner continued traversing.
Within minutes thereafter, hundreds of feet away, Officers approached in separate squad cars with lights on and detained without Reasonable Suspicion upon an incident. They communicated: 1. Immediately after discovering name questioned
for, they inexplicably initiated contact with the West Sacramento Police Department concerning outstanding warrants alleged to be issued by same agency, and 2. They quickly discovered two warrants alleged to be issued by nonlocal agency for failures to appear in cases 13-3628 and 13-23865 when records of did not retrieve in their local databases. Officers arrested. They refused Petitioner’s desperate pleas for his possessions meanly to be collected and booked into property release despite explanation that they included his case documents, work-product and law resources.
Officers refused exculpatory information respective to the clearing of warrants upon recent arrest on 11/09/2016. During booking. Yolo recent arrest on 11/09/2016. During booking, Yolo County Sheriff's Department originally processed both cases aforesaid setting date of 02/21/2017 for both as if joinder. Prior to release, agency then redacted processing for case: 13-23865. On 11/21/2016, Petitioner administratively addressed procedural default effecting remainder of outstanding warrant for arrest over one hearing. As sheriff set date by citation for case 13-23865 concurrent with case 13-3628 on 02/21/2016 at 0930 in Department 1...

2. Electronic audio recording of dispatch call – the initial accusation – reported by said first witness (which included audible background of Petitioner, from a distance, orating about the false report while departing),

BREAKING NEWS

Yolo Deputy DA Previously Involved in Fatal Police Shooting in San Jose

On May 6, 2015, the Yolo County District Attorney's office announced via Twitter that Deputy DA Frits van der Hoek had been sworn in as the newest member of the YCDA's team. The announcement might have seemed routine at the time, but unbeknownst to many in Yolo County, Mr. van der Hoek was involved in an extremely contentious and controversial shooting as a member of the San Jose State University Police Department.

Just over two weeks after the May 6 announcement, Mr. van der Hoek was officially cleared of his part in the fatal February 2014 shooting death of 38-year-old Antonio Lopez, just off campus.

This was an early test for officer body-worn cameras, which captured the incident – however, the department declined to release video except to a small contingent of people.

Mr. Lopez's partner, Laurie Valdez, and others have voiced disappointment in the lack of charges and filed suit against the university police in federal court. That lawsuit was dismissed by a federal judge, however, today they will have a hearing before an appellate court to see about reinstating the lawsuit.

While the video has not been made publicly available, the prosecutors created a limited viewing for a relative of the family, Ms. Valdez' attorney, local NAACP chapter president the Rev. Jethroe "Jeff" Moore, and Asian Law Alliance executive director Richard Konda.

After viewing the video, Mr. Konda told the media, "I did not see Antonio make any aggressive move in the video. I think charges should be filed in this case."

According to the report released by the Santa Clara District Attorney's Office, Mr. Lopez was shot twice during the confrontation with Officer van der Hoek and Sergeant Mike Santos, who ultimately shot him. The campus had received a 911 call to report that someone was walking through campus acting erratically "with some sort of knife like stabbing the air and doing a bunch of crazy stuff."

The autopsy reported that Mr. Lopez had methamphetamine in his system when died, though Ms. Valdez believes that "finding was tantamount to authorities trying retroactively to justify his killing, and contends that Lopez would not confront officers because of a general fear of police.”

She told the Vanguard that the language barrier played a huge role in his non-compliance and that neither officer spoke Spanish.

Officer van der Hoek ordered Mr. Lopez to “drop to the ground” while Sgt. Santos told him to “put that on the floor,” in reference to the knife (which may have been a drywall saw). At this point, van der Hoek tried to fire his Taser, but the prongs could not penetrate Mr. Lopez’s clothing.

Next, Mr. Lopez allegedly advanced on Officer van der Hoek, who yelled to his partner to “shoot him, shoot!”

Sgt. Santos told investigators, “I thought for sure this guy was about to stab him,” before he opened fire. Both of his shots hit Mr. Lopez in the back and he died at the hospital.

But there is controversy in this account.

In the first image you see Officer van der Hoek, weapon drawn, then moments later the police claim that Mr.

Lopez charged at van der Hoek, who then shouted for Sgt. Santos to shoot and Santos shot Mr. Lopez twice in the back.

But Ms. Valdez challenges that assertion. She believes that the footage supports her case, with the last image showing Lopez attempting to get away rather than charging the officer.

Again, after watching the video, Mr. Konda told the media, “I didn’t see him make any aggressive move toward any person.”

Ms. Valdez told the Vanguard that she believes, even though the report had not been released publicly at the time of Mr. van der Hoek’s hire by Yolo County, they were probably aware that the officer would be cleared in the fatal shooting.

She also said she believed this was an effort by the local officials to find a landing spot for Mr. van der Hoek.

James E. Horton, In Persona Propria

COUNSEL
AND PROCEED IN PRO PER
CASE SUMMARY

Defendant, James E. Horton, was brought to trial in this case on 06222016. Jury deliberation ended on 06242016. Judge Daniel P. Maguire delayed sentencing hearing with continuance until 06292016.
Just thereafter, Defendant filed Motion to Vacate Judgment challenging verdict as wrongful and arguing for dismissal due to inordinately delayed decision on Petition of Writ of Mandate to Appellate Division.

At sentencing hearing on 06292016, Judge retaliated against Defendant's Motion to Vacate Judgment by maliciously revoking defendant's right to self-representation and improperly appointing Public Defender as appointed counsel for sentencing phase when Defendant has substantial conflict of interest with Public Defender's Office.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

A contextual background of prosecutorial actions is circumstantially relevant since evidencing motive and intent toward 14th Amendment denials including hyper-vigilance to discredit Defendant's competence in order to obstruct Defendant during Post-Trial as follows:

Approximately three years ago, prosecutorial action was initiated against myself, James E. Horton, by the West Sacramento Police Department. Since then, the following court actions have occurred: This first case (case: 13-3628) began with

Public Defender overzealously RAISING A DOUBT ABOUT MY COMPETENCE TO STAND TRIAL at pretrial conference subsequent to arraignment. Doubt raised was based solely from police report without adequate consultation. Public Defender attempted to “fast-track” my case as a local procedure is termed. It would have denied fundamental rights without Due Process. I filed Faretta motion and have been granted self-representation after raising issue of substantial conflict due to ineffective counsel by the Public Defender’s Office. Since waiving counsel, I have filed pretrial motions (timely and proper) defending that prosecution lacked probable cause for the arrest – it was a pretextual, malicious, false arrest.

Thereafter, a barrage of overzealous, vindictive prosecutorial harassment began. An additional four frivolous charges initiated. At arraignments, I requested Public Defenders with mind to avoid unfair overburden by actions. Counsel was appointed for them (Cases: 13-23865, 14-1219, 14-4497 and 15-6705). Case 13-23865 is a case also initiated by the West Sacramento Police Department for taking one can out of a garbage can. Case 14-1219 involves charge of a camping infraction also to be heard in Traffic Court. It was initiated by a Woodland police officer to whom I explained: I have been circumstantially forced to self-represent in a foreign town as an indigent, and I was sitting under an overhang to get out of the rain with my case files and work product. This also was in 2014. Both cases are still amongst those pending behind first case in criminal court.

These cases are still pending by neglect since appointed counsel orally motioned for an anomalous procedure for these subsequent cases. Maguire agreed to and ordered so. Said to be "trailing" all cases ordered so. Said to be “trailing,” all cases versus this defendant were made to run consecutively and concurrently on the docket. As a result, all hearings were scheduled for all cases simultaneously. Procedure on it has been totally deprived thus far by the court as hearings are on all cases simultaneously with limited time. Scheduled hearings, actually, were truncated and too brief for even tending to the first case. Continually, Maguire precluded adequate time (and as confirmed by the record) to hear myself (as I had prepared for) on matters for even this first case. To rationalize, he appealed to the “interest of the time of the court” claiming an overburdened docket. Otherwise, they totally neglected any effort toward defense in these cases. (Still, Case Reports all record “Matter Heard” (as falsehood) for each hearing.) By this decision, cases have been neglected, compounding together to neglected, compounding together, to overburden at one time – an extreme Abuse of Legal Process violating my Speedy Trial and Fair Trial rights.

Repeatedly, I have raised discrepancy about these acts of Procedural Misconduct (both to counsel in meeting and judges in open court) but have been prejudicially ignored continually on the issue.

Since then, I have successfully raised issues of substantial conflict due to ineffective counsel completely adverse to an adequate defense. and right to waive counsel and self-represent in all cases during oral hearing. I needed to assert this right for any adequate defense. I am law trained.

Numerous times, in various ways, within pretrial motions to dismiss with merit, I have raised point as follows:

DEFENDANT'S RIGHT TO FAIR TRIAL
PREJUDICED BY PROTRACTED

RESTRAINT OF HIS LIBERTY TO AN

RESTRAINT OF HIS LIBERTY TO AN AREA. In them, he asserted: “delays are causing undue disruption to his life without justifiable cause... His liberty to move is restrained by inordinate bad faith delay – and without income – in proceedings pending” inordinately prolonged while indigent and not even resident to this area. This is due to overburdening by prosecutorial misconduct causing detriment to his Fair Trial rights. (Please see Defendant’s Speedy Trial Motions). For example, during pendencies, I have been obligated to attend total of 45 pretrial hearings and 3 days of 1 trial for which sentence hearing and judgment are delayed. The trial is not concluded. Hearings have resulted in a litany of blatant prejudicial denials flying in the face of fundamental constitutional rights. Also, initiated by Woodland Police Department alleging charge of Fight (Case: 14-4497). Facts are that a Corporal baited by blocking door to Police Station retaliating against my seeking a citizen's complaint form. It was dismissed upon motion to dismiss in court and for lack of sufficient evidence. I have a cause for civil action as result.

Suddenly, in late 2013, at trial readiness for first case (case: 13-3628), Judge Maguire opened hearing informing of a new charge of violation of PC § 415(1). Instantly, at same hearing, I was arraigned (case: 15-6705). Charge was upon arrest based only on informant's accusation. Said case was reinitiated and rearraigned. Originally, complaint alleged violations of two charges: PC § 647.6(A) Annoy/Molest Child, and PC § 415(1) Fight/Challenge Fight. Later, at a first arraignment on 05/14/2015, it was rejected by DA for lack of sufficient evidence. At this time, it was reinitiated on 415 charge with 647.6 dropped for lack of 415 charge with 647.6 dropped for lack of sufficient evidence. Efforts began to expedite this new case to trial with primary emphasis. Now, continuances were set for all other cases. This timing was conspicuously tactical toward Abuse of Legal Process to adversely effect Fair Trial for first case (case: 13-3628).

CASE FACTS

On 04202016, Petitioner filed Petition for Writ of Mandate and Request for Stay of Proceedings... At trial readiness conference scheduled on 04212016, Judge Daniel P. Maguire continued proceeding until 06152016 in lieu of time for decision upon Petition aforesaid and a stay until such. Respondent, Prosecutor Frits Van Der Hoek, filed opposition on 05092016. Petitioner has multiple times visited the court clerk seeking decision upon Petition in full-faith effort. Court repeatedly informed Petitioner has been being scrutinized over by such as called an "Attorney Unit" since 05092016. As date of this writing, decision is still pending and delayed in same process.

Trial proceeded on 06222016. Maguire put out continuance for sentencing phase; he verbalized favor of appointing public defender and prosecution's offer of a non-statutory agreement in place of sentencing called a "Diversionary Homeless Program." He threatened with ultimatum of prejudicial maximum sentence with settlement offer.

On 06272016, I filed Motion to Dismiss Because of Denial of Right to Speedy Trial in first case (case: 13-3628) arguing pendency thus far has prolonged 2 years and eight months being 1 year and 8 months surpassing maximum jail sentence. Hence, presumed prejudice against a fundamental right is prima facie. Then, on 06282016, I filed, under extreme circumstances considering judge's delay of sentencing phase, a Motion to Vacate Judgment upon the following points: CASE IS STILL PENDING UPON INORDINATELY DELAYED DECISION ON DEFENDANT'S PETITION FOR WRIT OF MANDATE since "said Petition has been maliciously ignored and case preceded (sic) to trial," and FAIR TRIAL PREJUDICIALLY HARMED BY UNDUE INFLUENCE UPON JURY since attempted jury tampering was evidenced during voir-dire selection and verdict was wrongful prima facie. Hearing for this motion was set for 07272016.

On 06292016, at a continued sentencing hearing, Maguire maliciously retaliated against my Motion to Vacate the Judgment. The hearing was completely one-sided. I was not permitted to speak and judge opened with prosecution. A Deputy District Attorney Christopher Bulkeley gave improper, prepared presentation endorsing (on record) the Diversionary Homeless Program as above mentioned. According to this newly conceived program, I would be forced to concede to “incompetent to stand trial” status, be forced to admit guilt, progress in stages of thought-control and be provided controlled housing (when I am not even native to this county – I am from Pennsylvania and Ohio). Maguire threatened with prejudicially excessive jail term as ultimatum to offer of this new program. Bulkeley voiced intent to raise doubt of my competence to stand trial. During hearing, Maguire blatantly precluded and obstructed fundamental right to orate in support and in defense. On the record, I attempted to raise issues relevant to sentencing by statute during this hearing. Continually, I was interrupted being told not to interrupt. Maguire also forbade my right to state objections during DA's unconstitutional presentation. Since I disagreed to and rejected offer of the unconstitutional program DDA Bulkeley offered (as replacement to sentencing), Judge Maguire vindictively revoked right to self-represent for sentencing. He then appointed counsel from the Public Defender's Office despite my objections.

RULE OF LAW

A CRIMINAL DEFENDANT HAS THE FUNDAMENTAL GUARANTEED RIGHT TO WAIVE COUNSEL AND REPRESENT HIMSELF

Absent exceptional circumstances over which the court has discretion as prescribed by relevant law, self-representation is an unqualified/guaranteed right implicit in the the Sixth Amendment. "Implicit in Fifth and Sixth Amendments is right of accused personally to manage and conduct his own defense in a criminal case" (U.S. v. Plattner (1964) 230 F.2d 271). Therefore, court must be careful not to impair "the absolute and primary right to conduct one's own defense in propria persona." According to Faretta, "Language and spirit of Sixth Amendment contemplate that counsel, like other defense tools guaranteed by it, shall be an aid to willing defendant, and not an organ of state interposed between an unwilling defendant and his right to defend himself personally" (Faretta v California (1975) 422 US 806). In dictum, it further explained, "An unwanted counsel 'represents' the defendant only through a tenuous and unacceptable legal fiction. Unless the accused has acquiesced in such representation, the defense presented is not the defense guaranteed presented is not the defense guaranteed him by the Constitution, for, in a very real sense, it is not his defense.”

Faretta v California is, now over development, primary case defining standards for self-representation. Relying upon, Indiana v. Edwards summarizes Faretta thusly: “The Court’s foundational ‘self-representation’ case... held that the Sixth and Fourteenth Amendments include a ‘constitutional right to proceed without counsel when’ a criminal defendant ‘voluntarily and intelligently elects to do so...’ The court implied that right from: (1) a ‘nearly universal conviction,’ made manifest in state law, that ‘forcing a lawyer upon an unwilling defendant is contrary to his basic right to defend himself if he truly wants to do so,’... (2) Sixth Amendment language granting rights to the ‘accused’”; (3) Sixth Amendment structure indicating that the rights it sets forth, related to the 'fair administration of American justice,' are 'personal' to the accused,... (4) the absence of historical examples of forced representation... "respect for the individual... (a knowing and intelligent waiver of counsel must be honored out of 'that respect for the individual which is the lifeblood of the law')" (Indiana v. Edwards (2008) 554 U.S. 164).

Absent exceptional circumstances over which the court has discretion as prescribed by relevant law, self-representation is an unqualified/guaranteed right implicit in the the Sixth Amendment. "Implicit in Fifth and Sixth Amendments is right of accused personally to manage and conduct his own defense in a criminal case" (U.S. v. Plattner (1964) 230 F.2d 271).  (Indiana v. Edwards (2008) 554

Purpose for court's scope of discretion relevant to alleged doubt concerning a defendant's competence are determinations of whether defendant has mental capacity to either "stand trial," or to "self-represent." Therefore, just an assertion that defendant may be mentally ill is not enough to excuse denial of a presumed right – defendant must suffer from a severe, debilitating mental illness according to an objective, defined scope. The precedent Indiana v. Edwards more specifically narrow-clarifies scope for determination of Incompetence to Self-Represent as exception to Presumed Right. In it, the Supreme Court held: "... that United States constitution permits states insist upon representation by counsel for those who are competent enough to stand trial but who still suffer from severe mental illness to the point where they are not competent to conduct trial proceedings by themselves" (Edwards, Supra).

Still, otherwise, standard for self-representation as in Faretta or Plattner as a guaranteed right with Presumption is still same.

According to People v. Johnson: "The standard that trial courts should apply when considering whether to exercise their discretion to deny self-representation based on a defendant's mental state is based on a defendant's mental state is whether the defendant suffers from a severe mental illness to the point where he or she cannot carry out the basic tasks needed to present defense without help of counsel" (People v. Johnson (2012) 53 C4th 519). Citing McKaskle v. Wiggins, the Edward's court listed basic trial tasks as: 1) organization of defense, 2) making motions, 3) arguing points of law, 4) participating in voir dire, questioning witnesses, 5) and addressing the court and jury (Indiana v. Edwards(2008) 554 U.S. 164).

To illustrate, Edward's standard applied in People v. Garcia holding, "The defendant had the mental competence to knowingly and intelligently waive counsel in a trial for animal cruelty... Since he demonstrated a rational understanding of the proceedings and the charges against him... in addition, the defendant identified the charges against him in his opening statement, made partially successful motions, told the court that he was presenting an argument because if he did not make a record he would not be able to raise the issue on appeal, and demonstrated a full understanding of the allegations...” (People v. Garcia (2008) 159 Cal. App. 4th 163).

Although, in Boyd v. Dutton, the Supreme Court held that “Waiver of right to lawyer will not be lightly presumed,” it continued: “and trial judge must indulge every reasonable presumption against waiver.” This holding, hinging up on the word reasonable indicates that such “p[re]sumption against waiver” was unreasonable. It is not obligatory upon a judge to favor a claim of doubt asserted where, in People v. Blair (2005) 36 C4th 686, 714).

It is relevant to compare against actual examples of incompetence requiring judicial denial.

For example, in Edwards, defendant was denied right to self-represent due to actual symptoms of schizophrenia. “Over the course of... two separate criminal trials, Edwards sought to act as his own lawyer. He filed a number of incoherent written pleadings,” such as this excerpt:

Defendant’s Version of the Instant Offense

The appointed motion of permissive intervention filed therein the court superior on 6-26-01 caused a stay of action and upon its expiration or thereafter three years the plan to establish a youth program to and for the coordination of aspects of law enforcement to prevent and reduce crime among young people... etc... (Edwards, Supra).

The appointed motion of permissive intervention filed therein the court superior on 6-26-01 caused a stay of action and upon its expiration or thereafter three years the plan to establish a youth program to and for the coordination of aspects of law enforcement to prevent and reduce crime among young people... etc... (Edwards, Supra).

Stemming logically from the Constitutional doctrine that Sixth amendment rights to a fair trial are guaranteed personally to the defendant, technical legal knowledge is irrelevant to standard for determination of competence to self-represent within the court's scope of discretion. According to Edwards, "... even assuming that self-representation might pose special trial-related difficulties, 'the competence that is required of a defendant seeking to waive his right to counsel is the competence to WAIVE THE RIGHT, not the competence to represent himself...' for this reason, we concluded, the defendant's 'technical legal knowledge' is 'not relevant' to the determination' (Indiana v. Edwards, citing Dusky v. United States (1960) 362 U.S. 402 and Faretta, Supra).

Edwards exists within this whole common-law context Its scopes at issue are to be applied balancing against presumptions upon rights to not have lawyer forced on defendant, etc. Context has not been overruled, but cited and respected by Edwards court. Standards for determination of competence to self-represent have only been clarified within it.

ANALYSIS

THE COURT MALICIOUSLY ABUSED DISCRETION BEYOND STANDARD AND SCOPE AT ISSUE IN REVOKING

DEFENDANT'S RIGHT TO SELF-REPRESENTATION

Defendant, hereby seeks to establish that he meets requirements for competence to self-represent and that court's doubts are prejudicial and unjust. Defendant, in fact, has demonstrated competence to self-represent surpassing standards defined by relevant case law. He has "knowingly and intelligently waived" right to counsel. He has shown competence to conduct proceedings at trial exceeding scope. Scope for standard involves competence to carry out "basic tasks" expected of a layperson without "technical legal knowledge" (Johnson, Supra and Edwards, Supra). During Pretrial, Defendant filed lucid, timely and proper pretrial motions with full merit. During trial, Defendant demonstrated relevant competence to perform basic tasks. He "demonstrated a rational understanding of the proceedings and the charges against him..." (Garcia, and the charges against him..." (Garcia, Supra). Defendant was aware and astute during voir-dire process. He recognized obvious "attempted jury tampering." A supervisor of the Woodland Police Department's Detective Unit, present in jury box, praised his subordinate on witness list. Defendant objected; juror was removed. He stated timely and proper objections. He led cross-examination adequately establishing relevant facts from questioning witnesses. He articulated organized opening and closing oral statements, and excellently "addressed the court and jury." Throughout course of pendency, he has demonstrated comprehension of law at issue.

In open-hearing on 06292016, and on the record, during prosecution's (unconstitutional) "presentation," he commented ... excellent job at least at a basic level. Therefore, even by Judge's own testimony (although I am adamant it is understated) Defendant has met standards according to Edwards.

Also, “Right of accused to defend himself rests on two bases: that he must have means of presenting the best defense and must have complete confidence in his own counsel” (Maldano v. Denno (1965) 348 F.2d 12). Defendant, here, is confident that, based on evidence alone, he could prevail in posttrial with appeal due to several prejudices to fundamental rights and upon challenge of a wrongful conviction. Under circumstances, (as above within statement of facts), in this case, adequate defense for Defendant absolutely necessitated that he self-represent. He has adequately and competently practiced more thoroughly and diligently than could be afforded by any attorney – especially the Public Defender’s Office with whom he is in a conflict of interest. In support, Defendant has already acquired a dismissal (in case:14-4497) resultant of his own defense. Self-representation is most Fair for Defendant.

In contrast to grounds for determination of incompetence in Edwards, here, court's doubts are claimed on implications concerning defendant's non-bizarre behavior. Defendant's motion practice has been lucid as well as his oral argumentation. Furthermore, he has been able to comprehend proceedings. Doubts are obviously insubstantial. Justice in this matter requires full consideration of Defendant's diligent, full-faith, competent efforts demonstrated on file and on record.

COURT RELIED ON PROSECUTION'S REASONING BASED ON MISREPRESENTATION OF FACTS AND MISINTERPRETATION OF AUTHORITY
CITED

District Attorney Fritz Van Der Hoek supporting doubt relied on dictum in Edwards which states, "... a right of self-representation at trial will not 'affirm the dignity” of a defendant who lacks the mental capacity to conduct his defense without the assistance of counsel. To the contrary, given the defendant’s uncertain mental state, the spectacle that could well result from his self-representation at trial is at least likely to prove humiliating as ennobling...” Curiously, he did not support his implication with any facts. Also, he misinterpreted intent of “dictum” out of context of the whole of doctrine within Edwards. By it, he misrepresented issues and facts and applied prejudicial scrutiny without substantiation.

On the contrary, Defendant did not make a spectacle as a fiasco attempting self-representation by judge’s own testimony. In open-hearing on 06292016, and on the record, responding to prosecution’s raised doubt, he commented excellent job at least at a basic level. Therefore, reasoning flies in the face of authority cited.

THE COURT IMPROPERLY APPOINTED PUBLIC DEFENDER WITH WHOM DEFENDANT HAS SUBSTANTIAL CONFLICT OF INTEREST AS COUNSEL AND AGAINST DEFENDANT'S CONSENT

On 06292016, Judge Maguire appointed counsel from Public Defender's Office fully aware of my substantial conflict with them (as raised mentioned above). Defendant has waived same counsel previously before same judge on this basis. Said public officials have procrastination and neglected defense for Defendant by requesting anomalous procedure of "trailing cases" as averred above within Statement of Facts. The court favored. Defendant's cases (and outcome) have been harmed severely as a result. Also, this has been much cause of disruption to Defendant's life from deprivation of right to Speedy Trial (bad-faith delay without remedy thus far) as Defendant has argued. Repeatedly, the court has based prejudicial denials of Defendant's Speedy Trial motions (in open hearing) on that record reflects Defendant has requested numerous continuances. It is suggested that, therefore, Defendant has not asserted Speedy Trial Rights – and as only factor to consider as oversimplification of issue. Firstly, he has argued (repeatedly): bad-faith delays were result of procrastination of public officials; he had not consented, but contended with decisions of appointed counsel to request said “trailing.” The Case Summary report reflects “Matters Heard” held out which were not continuances requested by myself. Secondly, by addressing issues of bad-faith delay with pretrial practice, Defendant had performed exactly expected to fulfill assertion of Speedy Trial Rights – causes of bad-faith delay by public officials causes of bad-faith delay by public officials. The above is amongst several reasons Defendant has for asserting incompetent and ineffective counsel as described within Statement of Facts.

CONCLUSION

Judge Maguire, on 06292016, grossly abused discretion in revoking self-representation – even if just for sentencing. Also, appointing Public Defender was highly improper given factors to weigh. Wherefore, Defendant requests the court to reverse revocation of his right to self-representation, regrant right to waive counsel, and for sentencing hearing included.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

SUMMARY OF ARGUMENT

Charge against defendant alleging violation of Cal. Penal Code 148(A)(1) is inadmissible since:

1. The information or indictment lacked reasonable or probable cause, and 2. Arrest of defendant on 06242013 was malicious/pretextual and therefore illegal.

Therefore, defendant prays the Court to set aside the indictment in the interest of justice.

STATEMENT OF FACTS     During the afternoon of 06242013, defendant rested under the bridge by the Riverwalk. Just prior to dusk, having to urinate, he began to leave toward Old Sacramento to use the restrooms traversing along the lower path which inclines north to converge with the main Riverwalk toward Old Sacramento Park.     Simultaneously, four (apparent) juveniles (later determined to be Tyler Anderson, Deniseia Lacy, Malaysia Allen, and Mary Gibbs) appeared from the bridge area coinciding with his southward travel along the main Riverwalk (above to his left). The three females were being led by a male who was ranting and gesturing loudly and flamboyantly. They began hazing from above shouting ridiculing terms such as "treehugger." Due to the group's pace of travel, parties converged at the juncture of the respecting paths. At the convergence, the party continued presenting defendant with targeted banter while cellphone texting with fixed attention on his person. Peacefully, defendant cut across the main Riverwalk path to the trash-can located at the west side of this path with intent (as practical custom) to gather recyclables for income. Without obscenities, he calmly, non-menacingly admonished the party with concise comments concerning their previous conduct toward an elder (as such is according the party with gather recyclables for income. Without obscenities, he calmly, nonmenacingly admonished the party with concise comments concerning their previous conduct toward an elder (as such is previous conduct toward an elder (as such is according to his acculturated values with respect to appropriate free speech within community). Immediately thereafter, the group retaliated with boisterous, nonsensical argumentation. Defendant attempted to ignore them and proceed when Anderson declared, "Okay, let's go over the bridge," then began following him retracing their direction. In response, defendant communicated to the effect, "If you are not intending trouble, why are you following me?" Defendant suggested they turn and keep moving.

At Anderson's behest, the group then turned and traveled north; defendant continued toward his destination. At this juncture, defendant overheard Anderson giving his description over his cell phone indicating a police dispatch call. In order to avoid a possible lingering issue, defendant decided to stay in vicinity to wait and talk with the police. Until the police arrived, he maintained approximately 75 feet distance from the group. While waiting, defendant overheard Anderson making various false accusations and embellished statements while affecting jocular, self-satisfied facial gestures occasionally flashing arrogant smirks at defendant and winking to his friends. By staying in area, they betrayed they were never actually menaced by defendant. At this point, defendant decided to video events for legal purposes. While accessing his cell phone nonthreatingly, Anderson implicatively exclaimed to the dispatcher, "hey... he's pulling something out of his pocket." Responsively in defense, defendant began to communicate, and from a distance (requiring higher decibel), to the dispatcher that he was not menacing, attacking the accusers, nor displaying a weapon but only a cell-phone (and for clarification). Within minutes, two West Sacramento Police squad vehicles speedily arrived, abruptly stopped and shined a blinding spotlight on defendant's face who was still standing approximately 75 feet distance from accusers. Noviolence, criminal activity, nor imminent threat was occurring at the moment. Militantly, officers exited the vehicles. Some immediately commenced taking statements from accusers calmly and respectfully. Another, Officer Wilson advanced toward defendant. After defendant verbally expressed desire to be heard concerning facts of the incident at issue, Wilson tersely commanded him (with inordinate, excessive command presence betraying animos) to sit on a distant bench and wait. Defendant was eagerly expecting rational dialogue concerning the incident (as recently from Ohio) flabbergasted having never been exposed to such extreme systemic behavior before during a “brief investigatory stop” appropriate to such circumstances at the scene. From this point on, all officers (especially one Officer Semeryk) behaved lock-step, knee-jerk, hyperreactionary, adrenaline rushed and borderline hostile toward the defendant. They immediately and unreasonably escalated to a de facto arrest.

Officer Wilson has averred in his police statement, “Further, HORTON kept reaching for his left pocket while pointing his cell phone at me, as if taking video, with his right hand. I told him no less than two separate times to keep his hands out his pockets.” In response, defendant asserts, subconsciously, he was only preparing to reach for his identification expecting a request for it (as customary) as Wilson approached, he attempted, but was abruptly estopped from, explaining his intention as benign and to cooperate with an ID check respectful to officer’s concerns. Wilson’s paranoid, hypersensitive reactions were unnecessary causation for eliciting nervous, subconscious habits in a tense situation in lieu of Wilson’s extreme, precarious demeanor. After actually complying with an arbitrary order (expressed with excess command presence) to “sit on the bench,” he expressed feeling he was oppressed, stating, “You’re bully me.” After a moment waiting on the bench, Semeryk approached with Coulter following behind. They expressed desire to perform a frisk search. With intent to cooperate with and facilitate their wish expressed, defendant calmly removed (with a subconscious sense of liberty with respect to movement of his limbs) his backpack which he was wearing. He asserts: “intuitive common sense dictated that removal of this was necessary as less obstructing to a frisk, and necessary for a separate search of it – I resented the thought of disrespected to my dignity if treated incompetent to remove it myself. Although, with just a slight lean forward and slip of my arms, my action was very benign as from a nondeviant/peaceful citizen. The officers militantly shouted ‘... sit down!’ exhibiting a predisposition toward excessive force.” Shortly thereafter, Semeryk advanced toward defendant, who then began to speak in defense concerning events; he was still currently video recording with his cell phone. As Semeryk came within arms length, with a premeditated quick reflex, he suddenly lunged at defendant’s cell phone. Defendant reflexed by pulling his hand backward ‘to avoid this abrupt, purposed frustration of my filming effort, and to avoid this inappropriate seizure of my property (said cell phone)." (He asserts, "Firmly, I held conviction that: 1. I had a Constitutional right to record this incident, and 2. Such a seizure, and without respectful communication, was unlawful and corrupt.") As a result of the force of this lunge with his own arm, defendant states that he felt Semeryk's own arm scrape against his thumb-nail. Semeryk has averred in his police report, "As he extended his right hand, holding a cell phone, I attempted to apply a department approved control hold, twist lock, to gain Hortpn's compliance. Horton violently pulled back and I observed him reaching toward the backpack he had just taken off. I pulled Horton away form (sic) the backpack by his right hand and assisted him to the ground into the prone position by guiding his head toward the ground with my right hand." Selectively, Semeryk omitted from his police report that, at this moment, he attempted a seizure of a defendant's cell phone without cause. In response, defendant avers: while compliantly seated on a bench, Semeryk advanced toward him conveying intent

to listen to his account of the incident while fixing malicious eye contact. Once in arms length, unprovoked, he violently lunged to grab and seize defendant's cell phone as if by premeditated action. Defendant instantly pulled his hand back sideways and to his right – not toward his backpack positioned to his left.

Immediately thereafter, in an unprovoked fit of rage, Semeryk grabbed defendant and forcefully pulled him off the bench and into the center of the Riverwalk path without mention of placing him under arrest. Semeryk averred in his police report, "I pulled Horton away from the backpack by his right (defendant was holding his cell phone in his right hand) and assisted him to the ground into the prone position by guiding his head toward the ground with my right hand. Officer Coulter immediately assisted in applying a control hold on Horton's left arm." Implying resistance, he continued, "Horton resisted with great physical exertion while trying to free his right hand form my grip and bring it toward his waist area..." In response defendant avers:

"Immediately upon being grabbed and dragged inexplicably, I instantly focused attention on stopping and saving cell phone video in progress to ensure its keeping. I was holding my hand high and to my right fixing attention on it while otherwise enduring what I rationally believed to be police brutality – not an arrest, since no mention of arrest was made. I was zealous to frustrate Semeryk's attempted obstruction of my video effort; however, otherwise, I was entirely compliant. The task of saving the video last only a few seconds. All the while, I was being dragged and pushed by Officer Semeryk without knowing why, but I did not resist nor respond with physical retaliation. Officer Coulter, meanwhile, was observing from approximately fifteen feet to the north. At the exact moment I accomplished saving data... Coulter announced, 'You're under arrest... stop resisting.' Immediately, I became compliant with all requests" Officer Semeryk compliant with all requests.” Officer Semeryk ordered me to the ground and preformed a forceful frisk while communicating a litany of taunts and insults. Semeryk has averred in his police report: “Horton kept saying that he was doing nothing wrong and made incoherent statements about the government setting him up to be taken to jail. He accused the reporting party to be a government agent who worked for the police. Horton was saying he was the actual victim and was attacked by the reporting party and his friends.” In response, defendant asserts, firstly, he never verbalized that “he was ‘attacked’ by the reporting party...,” but that he was harassed then falsely accused by the reporting party and therefore was “the actual victim.” Secondly, as to implications about “incoherent statements,” he states: “Actually, I verbally alluded with concise statements to my rational belief that the arrest was false and pretextual involving civil rights violations as a First amendment right. I was in fact cogent in context questioning and correcting their misconduct as a civic duty. My statements were few, brief – not belligerent, yet firm and adamant. Semeryk has defensively misrepresented my statements by vaguely referring to them as ‘incoherent statements about the government setting him up...’ I resent the implication. Defendant was never Mirandized the entire night before imprisonment.” At the Yolo County sherriff Department, officers charged defendna teith violatin of Cal. Penal Code §§ 415 per the citizen’s arrest which officers hadn influenced Anderson to make during questioning.

ARGUMENT INFORMATION OR INDICTMENT LACKED REASONABLE OR PROBABLE CAUSE Initial “detention tantamount to arrest,” as well as the subsequent excessive force carried out by Semeryk were without reasonable cause since defendant “posed no threat to the safety of the officers” nor did he “attempt to flee or resist arrest.” In support, the court held Solomon v. Auburn Hills Police court held Solomon v. Auburn Hills Police Department that “force was excessive because suspect was arrested on a minor charge, did not pose a threat to the safety of officers or others and did not attempt to flee or resist arrest” (Solomon v. Auburn Hills Police Department (2004) 389 F.3d 167). Also, it held that “In assessing reasonableness, it is necessary to take into account the “totality of circumstances that bear on the use of force.” The circumstances are as follows: Youthful informants reported a very minor offense, Defendant was carrying no open (or other actual) weapon, There was no crime nor violent activity in progress (not before for that matter) at the scene, Defendant’s demeanor was non-violent and relatively calm – he was only zealously interested in equal protection to be heard about begin falsely accused, Defendant was wearing a backpack; however, a clothing item worn on the back precludes expeditious access to its contents, hence his front posed no threat. Semeryk’s only assertion relevant to ‘safety of a police officer’ referenced his prejudicial based on misperception and conflict-of-interest. Defendant reasonably expected to endure an investigatory stop. Reasonably, he initiated attempts to communicate asserting his equal protection rights to be heard concerning facts. Officers immediately denied them by immediate and unreasonable escalation to de facto arrest when Cal. Penal Code §§ 837 precludes arrest of suspect for a misdemeanor not committed in the presence of officers. By exhibiting excess command presence, they betrayed hyper-vigilant intent to maliciously prosecute behaving prejudicial toward client.

“appearance of a transient/homeless person” – a discriminatory profile (from which he derived unreasonable assumptions). Terry v. Ohio has held, “Intrusions upon constitutionally guaranteed rights must be based on more than inarticulate hunches, and simple good faith on part of officer is not enough” ( Terry v. Ohio (1968) 392 U.S.1). Furthermore, “In justifying particular intrusion, police officer must be able to point to specific and articulable facts which, taken together with rational inferences from these acts reasonably warrant that intrusion; facts must be judged against objective standard of whether facts available to officer at moment of seizure or search warrant man of reasonable caution belief that action taken was appropriate” ( Terry). Likewise, in Dunaway v. New York, the court held, “Hostility based on mere suspicion was a prime motivation for the adoption of the Fourth amendment.” Police claims concerning defiant behavior are prejudicial based on misperception and conflict

Although Terry court held, "Police may in appropriate circumstances appropriate manner Terry) approach person for purposes of investigating possible criminal behavior even though there is no probable cause to make an arrest," officers' initial manner of approach was unreasonable and inappropriate given the totality of circumstances. "Courts have responsibility to guard against police conduct which is overbearing or harassing or which trenches upon personal security without objective evidentiary justification which Constitution requires..." ( . In consideration of the above, the officers' high alert status was extremely paranoid and extreme. In context, defendant did not resist arrest, but was only protecting evidence while victimized by police misconduct. Using his right hand to save data on his cell phone before during the process, defendant was dropped. In consideration of this train of events, defendant has rational reason to induce that his arrest was malicious and pretextual to acquire his phone discovery concerning a surrounding situational context. According to U.S. v. Mota, "Arrest is mere pretext for search if motivation or primary purpose of arresting officers is to arrest defendant for minor offense so as to allow police to search for evidence of unrelated offense for which police lack probable cause to arrest or search" (U.S. v. Mota (1993) 9982 F.2d).

CONCLUSION Charge is minor based on minimal evidentiary facts. As a matter, the first charge stemming from Anderson's citizen's arrest was dropped before arraignment.

Moreover, weight of evidence supports assertion that defendant has been targeted for harassment and malicious, pretextual arrest. Defendant is not even resident of area but has been traveling; he desires to move on; is being administratively harassed by being restrained to an area unreasonably against his will. He has no outstanding warrants and a very minimal criminal record. Zealous prosecution would only reinforce defendant's belief that exploitation of such a minor offense is pretextual for a malicious ulterior motive and would belabor the Court with unnecessary expense. Therefore, it would be in the interest of justice for the Court to dismiss charge.

For the reasons stated above, the defendant respectfully requests that this Penal code section

995 motion be granted and his motion dismiss...

(Motion to Set Aside Information Due to Lack of Probable Cause. 13-3628. 05042014.)

STATEMENT OF FACTS...

- On 06292016, at continued sentencing hearing, Maguire (conspicuously) retaliated maliciously against my most recent motion and with motive and intent to preemptively obstruct Post-Trial and succeeding causes for civil actions. On the record, the hearing was completely one-sided – Obstructionist.

Petitioner appeared prepared to orate in support and in defense on issues relevant to sentencing by statute; He attempted to raise and then asserted to raise them.

Maguire blatantly denied Due Process precluding right to speak. Continually, he interrupted attempts to assert right for hearing on matter. Furthermore, he reversed accused Petitioner overbearingly insisting he not “interrupt.” Maguire also forbade right to state objections during an Unconstitutional, ex-parte “presentation” by the District Attorney’s Office.

Court acted to unjustly Duress Petitioner to accept settlement offer for a nonstatutory, Unconstitutional alternate to sentencing. Judge opened with prosecution. A Christopher Bulkley, Deputy District Attorney appeared present not prosecutor on record in the case and during trial (Fritz Van Der Hoek). Bulkeley gave improper, prepared presentation endorsing (on record) a newly conceived "program" – the "Diversionary Homeless Program." Accordingly, Petitioner would be Coerced to concede to Admission of Guilt, progress through stages of a thought-control program, accept "Incompetent to Stand Trial" status and controlled, free housing for indefinite period of time (when I am not even native to this state or county). Since I rejected said offer stating it to be unconstitutional on the record, Maguire persisted to Maliciously Retaliate with Gross Abuse of Discretion. Bulkeley reiterated intent to Maliciously Raise Doubt about Competence to Stand Trial! Maguire threatened (even Blackmailed) with Prejudice in Sentencing Phase – an excessive, maximum jail term (upon wrongful conviction while refusing to hear Petitioner on issues at hand for which he came prepared) as ultimatum to offer hand for which he came prepared) as ultimatum to offer – an alternate to statutory punishments diverting Post-Trial Due Process. He vindictively revoked Right to Self-Represent during sentencing and appointed Public Defender for counsel in error. Court specified revocation to be “... ON THIS CASE ONLY FOR SENTENCING.” (Please see Appendix F(1)(e).) Judge verbally confirmed, per Petitioner’s inquiry in open court, Petitioner otherwise remains Pro-Se in all cases. As reasoning, Maguire rationalized malicious prejudice against Petitioner’s aggressive defense as behavior indicating mental incompetence. He argued oversimply: Petitioner’s rejection of said counsel was believed by himself to be “irrational.” Furthermore, Respondent refused to permit objections to Unconstitutional Acts of “forcing a lawyer” upon a defendant while fully aware of Irreconcilable, Substantial Conflict with same counsel. Court continued sentencing until 07/13/2016. Petitioner filed Faretta motion on 07/11/2016. (Please see Appendix F(6).) • On 07/13/2016, Judge Maguire, in Department 10, was occupied by another incomplete trial and was unavailable. Upon appearing, Petitioner was informed by Bailiff that Upon appearing, Petitioner was informed by Bailiff that court transferred hearing to Department 9, Traffic Court before Judge J. Beronio in lieu of the overburden to "the time and resources of the court. Therefore, due to complications of case, the court then continued sentencing until 07/27/2016 at 1000 in Department 10. • On 07/27/2016, Petitioner appeared at 1000 for continued sentencing hearing. Judge Maguire blatantly obstructed Due Process refusing to hear Petitioner upon issues for which he came prepared. Court claimed "FAILURE TO APPEAR" as reflected within minutes and case summary reports, yet maliciously granted prosecution's oral motion to charge with Contempt for "(mis)behavior in court." Post-judge's communicated refusal (at the bench) to hear Petitioner, and on record, he grossly Abused Legal Process issuing bench warrant. Court delivered Minute Sheet reflecting that a warrant review hearing was set for 08/24/2016. Date was already overburdened with hearings scheduled on compounded matters: vacated sentencing, oral argument upon Faretta motion, and neglected matters in all other cases, etc. • Date for case 15-6705 concurrently with case 14-1219 has been set for..." Recently, I began construction of the webpage “JCTF vs. Yolo County et al.” publishing for distribution a record of its incidents (of Anti-Christian and Anti-American prosecutorial actions, betraying intents of Hypocritical Treachery toward all law-abiding humanity, maliciously initiated by People of California vs. James E. matter of the gravest weight in the history of both the United States of America and Civilization of the entire World during these End Times prophesied risen from decades of a Treacherous “Occultic Conspiracy” which has been diversionarily misnomered “The Cold War” by minimizing, secularized historians and politicians of the latter twentieth century. During this period of misrepresented history, an unnumbered multitude amongst the most lawful have disappeared while their records have been destroyed within my borders. I am left during same period of “Great Tribulation” guilefully denied by a remaining populace with bloody hands in collusion with “The Great Whore of Babylon” drunk with the blood of the saints. Her seat currently still resides on seven hills riding a Beast hypocritically while conspiratorially operating through the remaining Treason within my nation's borders by illegal, secret treaties considering its territory annexed to same "Babylon." None of its conduct is legitimate being completely Unconstitutional in hypocrisy. This all has been undeniably irrefutable during this Insurrection of satan's servants. It is all public knowledge despite being treasonously omitted from all press and media only disseminating subversion and false-propaganda hostile to National Security Interest and the Overriding Public Interest of any upstanding who have not forfeited their Fundamental Rights by complicity and collusion with said Treason.

Wherefore,

I, Jacob (James E. Horton), hereby, proclaim: 1. Incidents of this casematter aforesaid to be historically termed "The Great Mockery of Justice" as a political matter in the history of MY nation, The United States of America; and, 2. Both the

“McCarthy Case” matter, of MY nation, and the “Profuma Affair” disposition according to one historical “Denning Report” (also a heretical mockery of jurisprudence and moral order within the political history of Great Britain) to be, effectively, overruled as Per Incuriam by the weight of the Looptank Insurrection Analysis, as authored by myself [Jacob (James E. Horton)] as malevolent and unlawful precedents which have “Endorsed Lawlessness.”

HON. JAMES M. EDWARDS

JOHN BROWN, M.D.

This drawing, often labeled in error as Barnabas Horton (1600-1680), is actually of JONATHAN GOLDSMITH HORTON. He was a 3rd great grandson of Barnabas and the last Horton descendant to live in the house before it was torn down in 1878. It was included on a memorial drawing about Barnabas Horton's house in Southold, Long Island. "J. G. Horton Esq" is seen on the jacket at bottom of picture.

A pingback is one of four types of linkback methods for Web authors to request notification when somebody links to one of their documents. This enables authors to keep track of who is linking to, or referring to their articles. Some weblog software and content management systems, such as WordPress, Movable Type, Serendipity, and Telligent Community, support automatic pingbacks where all the links in a published article can be pinged when the article is published. Other content management systems, such as Drupal and Joomla, support pingbacks through the use of addons or extensions.

Essentially, a pingback is an XML-RPC request (not to be confused with an ICMP ping) sent from Site A to Site B, when an author of the blog at Site A writes a post that links to Site B. The request includes the URI of the linking page. When Site B receives the notification signal, it automatically goes back to Site A checking for the existence of a live incoming link. If that link exists, the pingback is recorded successfully. This makes pingbacks less prone to spam than trackbacks. Pingback-enabled resources must either use an X-Pingback header or contain a element to the XML-RPC script.

Exploits Edit

In March 2014, Akamai published a report about a widely seen exploit involving Pingback that targets vulnerable WordPress sites.[1] This exploit led to massive abuse of legitimate blogs and websites and turned them into unwilling participants in a DDoS attack.[2] Details about this vulnerability have been publicized since 2012.[3]

The pingback attacks consist of “reflection” and “amplification”: an attacker sends a pingback to a legitimate Blog A, but providing information of the legitimate Blog B (impersonation).[4] Then, Blog A needs to check Blog B for the existence of the informed link, as it’s how the pingback protocol works, and thus it downloads the page off Blog B server’s, causing a reflection.[4] If the target page is big, this amplifies the attack, because a small request sent to Blog A causes it to make a big request to Blog B.[4] This can lead to 10x, 20x, and even bigger amplifications (DoS).[4] It's even possible to use multiple reflectors, to prevent exhausting each of them, and use the combined amplification power of each to exhaust the target Blog B, being by overloading bandwidth or the server CPU (DDoS).[4]

WordPress changed a bit how the pingback feature works to mitigate this kind of vulnerability: the IP address that originated the pingback (the attacker address) started being recorded, and thus shown in the log. [5] Notwithstanding, in 2016, pingback attacks continued to exist, supposedly because the website owners don't check the user agent logs, that have the real IP addresses.[5][4] It has to be noted that, if the attacker is more than a script kiddie, he will know how to prevent his IP address being recorded, by, for example, sending the request from another machine/site, so that this machine/site IP address is recorded instead, and the IP logging then, becomes less worthy.[6] Thus, it's still recommended to disable the pingbacks, to prevent attacking other sites (although this does not prevent being target of attacks).[5] (wiki).

ACTION: REVISED "DISCUSSION SETTINGS" TO DISABLE "PINGBACKS" FROM ADMIN DASHBOARD....

WORDPRESS AND SAVED SETTING CHANGES... WILL NEED TO PERIODICALLY INSPECT PERMANENCE OF SAID CHANGE....

To reiterate, filing this specific document file was never on my mind, extraneous to it, in this specific, individual and immediate case-matter at State Hearing Division of the Department of Social Services. I ADAMANTLY ASSERT (while extreme aggressiveness against weight of Unfairness of Process and Organized Prejudice, inherent within Administration of Defendant Agency conspicuously, is Necessary) THAT ALL OTHER RECORDS RECORDED AS CLAIMANT'S OWN INITIATED DOCUMENTS FILED INTO SAME RECORD ARE PROPER WITH FULL MERIT WITHIN SAME JURISDICTION BEING RELEVANT AT ISSUE IN SAME IMMEDIATE AND SPECIFIC CASE-MATTER UPON CLAIMANT'S COMPLAINTS OF INITIAL PLEADINGS ON FOLLOWING GROUNDS: Constant, Gross and Heinous Client Mistreatment Prejudicially in Felonious Conspiracy in Collusion with Occultic-Organized-Crime Parties by (nonexhaustively) Severe, Indignifying and Intentional (in malice intent) Abuses of: Process, Procedure and of Obsessively

This is not my fault; I MUST BE publicly confessed for decades his intent to cause his Christian targets to, as he stated verbatim, "wither and perish!" I have discovered the organization system of secreted conspiracy, and involvong government saturation, and with Crypto-

pagan imposters within all churches outwardly representing as Christian hypocritically within these borders, as revealed TRUTHS I am certain of; I must confront the CRIMES. DHA is involved colluding with them for certain upon accumulative proofs experienced, witnessed and discovered. All is Relevant of the criminal conspiracy in this case-matter (SDHN.11104736669) When you know of

(SDHN:11104736662). When you know of Crimes you are complicit to tolerate contrary to CIVIC DUTY in collusion as Mudd. Default or evasiveness of all AT ISSUE without LACK is NECESSARY! Therefore, these are to remain and not be Deleted at all!

I know I would never have done this. There have been inordinately accumulative Anomalies during periods of my utilizing this ACMS System, throughout pendency, for e-filing and case management (monitoring and recording the record for my own, personal casefile records) They Evince, to standard of proof way Beyond All Reasonable Doubt, as I have repeatedly asserted as aforesaid! This one erroneous e-filing, as a process anomaly, was result of the Extremely Excessive Harassments of Malicious Interference during my intended File Transfers Remotely Terminalled!

damages.¶¶For personal filemanagement, I filenamed the casefile with an acronym for a code-name type of appellation for an initiative category. Spontaneously and impromptu, I quickly derived and wrote “UTR” on its file folder. This also functioned well as a directory name for my netbook’s file system. Actually, I call the case something like “JCTF vs. Bush et al.” I have served in the Air Force during the Bush administration. Then, I learned of these genealogical relatives’ roles in Satanic, Globalist, UnAmerican and Treasonous Conspiracies for certain. ¶¶I’ve been aware: Malicious UCMJ Infractors and relatives connected to federal agencies became obsessed (overzealous), per surveillance their criminal harassments. Since, per discovery, I have inferred the suspicion that this county is such stronghold because it may be the residence of Arnold Shwarzenegger. He has been a connectivity of close, biological relatives of mine through occultic organized crime. This is connectivity with a secret faction obsessed with Ayn Rand Objectivism for treasonous and AntiChristian ideology. Despicably, recording minstrel troupe, "Rush," (through church of satan connectivities) is hierarchically prominent in said faction as philosophers by the occupational front. Per Looptank Parol Testimony, member Neil Peart, by same front inappropriately glorified mis-valued,

Wherefore also we pray always for you, that our God would count you worthy of this calling, and fulfil all the good pleasure of his goodness, and the work of faith with power: 1:12 That the name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ. lamentations, and mourning, and woe...

3:1 Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, eat that thou findest; eat this roll, and go speak unto the house of Israel. 3:2 So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat that roll. 3:3 And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I eat it; and it was in my mouth as honey for sweetness. 3:4 And he said unto me, Son of man, go, get thee unto the house of Israel, and speak with my words unto them. 3:5 For thou art not sent to a people of a strange speech and of an hard language, but to the house of Israel; 3:6 Not to many people of a strange speech and of an hard language, whose words thou canst not understand. Surely, had I sent thee to them, they would have hearkened unto thee. 3:7 But the house of Israel will not hearken unto thee; for they will not hearken unto me: for all the house of Israel are impudent and hardhearted. 3:8 Behold, I have made thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead strong against their foreheads. 3:9 As an adamant harder than flint have I made thy forehead: fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house. [And so to Barak Obama I say: Indeed some people have not been reading their Bibles, or at least in order to “rightly divide” soundly so as not to “mishandle deceitfully” God’s Mishpatim, Eidot and Chukim of His

This is a Limited Edition Special! It, thus far, has only been "published" on Saturday, May 1st, 2021 until 3:00 PM. (Honest, untampered Google account records will confirm.) I suspect it has already spread by malicious interception of of obsessed hackers and dissemination through an occultic-organized crime network through privatized facebook "friendship" networks (of Wilgus, in conspiracy connected to the Criminal Cleveland Field Office, and others). I am privatizing now at 3:00 PM, 05012021. Statistics record 2views and those were by myself while maintaining playlists.
